McCarty delays return

Hancock County Superintendent of Education, K. G. McCarty, has not as yet returned a 1975 model car leased to the school system by Turan-Lane Chevrolet for use as a driver education car at Hancock North Central High School. The county school board ordered McCarty to return the car at their meeting Feb. 13, when members of the board claimed that the superintendent was using the car for his personal business.

A spokesman from Turan-Lane Chevrolet said Wednesday morning that the car had not been returned, but that he had been in contact with McCarty who promised to return the car Monday.

"I haven't returned the car yet because it doesn't belong to anybody," said McCarty Wednesday. "It doesn't belong to you, and it doesn't belong to the school board. They told me to return the car, and I am going to return it next week."

The agreement with Turan-Lane for lease of the car is a part of a program sponsored by the American Automobile Association and the Chevrolet Motor Division. Under the agreement the county pays only the insurance cost and the cost of the license tag. Operational costs for the cars is paid by the state in the form of a reimbursement for each student enrolled in the program. In the case of the second car which has never been used by the students, McCarty says he has paid his own gas and insurance costs.

Two qualify for school seat

Two candidates have qualified to run for the trustee position on the Bay St. Louis School Board for the added territory outside of the city corporation limits. Frank Shattuck and Mrs. Jean Townsend, both of Waveland have entered the race which will be held Saturday, March 1 between 2 and 5 p.m.

Shattuck, a two year resident of Waveland, is the owner of Shattuck Audio-TV. His wife, Rose, is a teacher at Gulfview School, and Shattuck also has experience as a teacher in New Orleans and in Mexico. His education includes a BA in economics and anthropology and an MA in anthropology. He is 34 and has two children.

Mrs. Townsend, 41, is a real estate agent for McCutcheon Realty. She has two children attending Bay Junior High, and has served as an advisor to the Bay High Student Council. Mrs. Townsend is also a member of the Advisory Council of Southern Accreditation for Bay Junior High and a member of the Bay High Booster Club.

Dupont board authorizes purchase, hearing set on Save the Bay suit

by David Pierson

The finance and executive board of the DuPont Corporation authorized the purchase of 2,200 acres north of the Bay of St. Louis Monday for the future site of the company's proposed titanium dioxide plant. Save the Bay, Inc. a group seeking to block the proposed plant site filed suit Tuesday seeking to reverse the state permits for DuPont's proposed waste discharge into the Bay.

DuPont's titanium dioxide manager,

Tidemark to purchase land

The Harrison County Board of Supervisors agreed to sell 28 acres at $2,000 an acre in the Pass Christian Industrial Park to Tidemark Inc. of Harvey, Louisiana for a barge construction plant.

The plant will initially employ 40 to 50 people and cost the company about $400,000 in capital costs.

Tidemark, which agreed to pay about one-third of the purchase now and the balance over the next five years, plans to be in operation by August.

Crime computer

Hancock County Sheriff Sylvan Ladner demonstrates how simple it is for law officers to now obtain information about suspects utilizing the department's new National Crime Information Center computer being leased by the sheriff's office. The computer can retrieve data on criminal records or stolen cars within minutes compared to days before the machine was acquired.

Hancock Board retains attorney in suit

Hancock Supervisors Monday were unanimous in a motion to retain the firm of Favre and Genin to represent the board in a suit filed by former supervisor Harlan G. Dean which seeks to have the federal courts force a return to election by beats for supervisors. Favre had earlier said he was uncertain whether he would be able to defend the board in the suit due to reasons of health, but Monday said that he had found out that the court expects the board attorney to be present anyway.

Favre said he possibly would retain associate counsel from Harrison County to help him prepare the board's defense.

The board has until March 4 to file an answer to the suit. Subpoenas were received Feb. 12.

Beat One supervisor Jerry Ladner said he was in favor of Favre defending the board in the suit if he and Favre were agreed that that a return to beat elections was a step backward for the county.

Favre said he agreed with Ladner that running on a county-wide basis promoted a better form of government.

"Actually it's much easier on the people running for office to simply run by beat," Ladner said, "but I'm of the opinion that we get better government if candidates represent the whole county."

In other business Monday the board agreed to seek legislative assistance to regulate train speeds outside the county's two municipalities.

Earlier the board had asked the Mississippi Public Service Commission to order speed limits lowered from 50 to 40 miles per hour until track repairs were completed in the county, but were told that the commission had no authority to order such speed reductions.

Board attorney Sam Favre said Monday, after discussion with PSC attorney Bennett Johnson, the two concurred that neither the board of supervisors nor the commission had the power to impose speed limits on rail traffic.

Favre advised the board, however, that legislative action in the form of a local and private bill, could designate such authority to the board.

The board will request Rep. Earl Ladner and Sen. Martin Smith to sponsor the bill in the current legislature.

The matter of speed limits follows a derailment of 17 cars of a Louisville and Nashville Railroad freight train in January, which forced the evacuation of 20 families in the Ansley area after a leak in one of the cars carrying a toxic

Carver to circulate petition for election

Bay St. Louis Mayor Warren Carver said Tuesday he would initiate personally efforts to have a public election called to decide whether Bay St. Louis would remain a mayor-commission form of government or change to aldermanic.

Carver's remarks were made after he tried unsuccessfully to get commissioners Lucien Kidd and Clarence Ladner to endorse his suggestion for a public vote on the issue. Both said they were satisfied with the present system of government and would serve in their offices as they were elected.

The return to arguing for a public election on the issue Tuesday by Carver seemed to catch both commissioners off guard. The matter was brought up originally late last year by a segment of the Hancock Chamber of Commerce after arguing that continued in-fighting between the mayor and commissioners caused a black eye image for the city and hindered city government. The issue was subsequently dropped after Commissioners Ladner and Kidd declined to call an election on the issue of going aldermanic and a later poll of chamber members revealed that the full membership was also not in favor of an election.

Carver prefaced his remarks Tuesday saying that the public election in 1926 creating the present commission type government had been influenced by a lack of franchise for a large segment of the black vote and many poor whites were discouraged by a $2 poll tax. A total of 555 people voted in the election.

"I think it is time to give the people a chance to express themselves on this issue," Carver said. "The aldermanic form of government is a more representative type of government and gives the citizen who wants to serve his community the chance to do so without leaving his job."

Commissioners Kidd and Ladner responded that they were satisfied with the present form of government and felt that it was not up to the council to initiate such a move.

"If the people want to change the government, they have avenues of law through which they can do it," Ladner said. "but I have been elected to serve as Commissioner and I am going to serve out my term until the people decide not to return me to office."

Commissioner Kidd concurred with Ladner's sentiments. "If you're so concerned about the people having leadership on this why don't you do something yourself?"

Following the meeting Carver said he intended to do just that and revealed plans to start petitions circulating that would force the public vote. Carver said the petitions would require approximately 750 votes or 20 percent of the electorate to put the question on the ballot.

In other action at the Tuesday meeting, Carver voiced objections against hiring Robert Bienvenu to audit 1974 tax receipts. Carver said he was unaware Bienvenu was doing the audit until he saw a bill for the work. Bienvenu said that the mayor had authorized the work himself and Ladner added he thought the council had agreed to have Bienvenu do the work.

"I take exception to the fact that I was not informed before he was hired," Carver said. "You did not get a formal go ahead from me, and I am doubtful that this is the right time to do it."

Carver said he felt the audit should be done of 1973 receipts instead of the current year. Ladner responded that Moore and Powell accountants had performed a spot audit on 1973 receipts already.

The Council postponed a decision on a loitering ordinance which levied a fine of $5-50 for loitering or drinking on public streets until attorney Joseph Gex could get more information of present ordinances.

Commissioner Kidd, who objected to the measure, said "I really think we are going overboard on these ordinances. It is getting so that we have 19 volumes of laws to enforce the ten commandments."

The council did approve a schedule of fines for violation of present city ordinances with the reminder that levying of such fines and the amount was still up to the discretion of the judge, and the list is only to be used as a guideline.

Zengarling pledges to beat state aid work

Hancock County Supervisor H. Zengarling said Monday he would construct approximately eight-tenths of a mile of Fenton Road "better than the state aid people can do it" after the board agreed to accept conditions of the state aid office for deleting the road from a federal aid project.

Deletion of the road was requested by the supervisors after Zengarling and Beat Five Supervisor Jimmy Travirca said they were unable to obtain easements from all property owners on the road and because of the financial hardship necessary to relocate the gas line.

The segment of road in question begins at its junction with Mississippi 603 and extends easterly to the end of the gas line, a distance of about eight-tenths mile.

The state aid office in a letter dated Feb. 7 said it looked with "disfavor" on deleting that part of the project "since this is going to be the most heavily travelled segment of the road and should be constructed to the same standards as the remainder of the project," but added it realized the board had a serious problem.

The letter continued that the road would be deleted from the project subject to the approval of the Federal Highway Administration and subject further to the following conditions: 1) that the section of road be shaped for section and drainage and widened to the maximum practical extent; 2) that the existing pavement on this section be widened and overlaid to the same width as will be constructed on the remaining portion of the project; 3) that the work outlined above be accomplished under the engineering control of the county engineer; and 4) that the remainder of the project be built as planned.

Zengarling said he would take full responsibility for constructing the road and would use road and bridge funds from his own beat.

Board attorney Sam Favre said that a determination of what easements the board didn't have needed to be made

Funeral services were held Saturday from Laudumiey Savings and Loan League, Chamber of Commerce and Noon Lions Club of Gulfport.

CLIFFORD TRAUTVETTER

Clifford Trautvetter, 60, died at 4 a.m. Friday, Feb. 14, at his residence Shoreline Park, Bay St. Louis.

Born January 11, 1915, in Vanderburg County, Ind., he was a self-employed interior and exterior decorator. He was a Baptist.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Leola Drew Trautvetter, Bay St. Louis; three sons, Roy English, Bay St. Louis; Ralph Gene English and Jerry Trautvetter, both of Evansville, Ind.; two daughters, Mrs. Bud (Jenny) Favre, Bay St. Louis, and Mrs. Junior (Beverly) Bogard, Evansville; a brother Melvin Trautvetter, California; 31 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at 1 p.m. Saturday at Riemann-Fahey Funeral Home followed by interment in Garden of Memory Cemetery.

R. FRED MOORE

Moore elected president

Mr. R. Fred Moore, Jr. of Poyune was elected President of Security Savings & Loan Association at the annual stockholders meeting in Gulfport Feb. 6. Security has offices in Bay St. Louis and in the Security-Markham building in Gulfport.

Moore, a graduate of Tulane University in New Orleans, is a member of Mortgage Bankers Association, Homebuilders, United States League of Savings Association, Mississippi Savings and Loan League, Chamber of Commerce and Noon Lions Club of Gulfport.

Bay police investigate weekend burglaries

The Bay St. Louis police department is currently investigating burglaries of two local drug stores over the weekend. Bay Police Chief Billy Carbonette said both Fahey Drugs, at Blaize Ave., and Eckerd Drugs, in the Bay Mall, were burglarized after hours by unidentified thieves. Carbonette said police had no leads on the suspects thus far.

The suspects entered Fahey Drugstore from the rear of the building Friday evening and escaped with an undetermined amount of assorted drugs and merchandise. No cash was taken. Police answered the call the next morning at 9:30 a.m. when the theft was discovered by the owners.

The burglary of Eckerd

Long Beach mayor cites stray dogs as problem

Terming stray dogs in the city "a serious problem," Long Beach Mayor Sam Maxwell suggested at Tuesday's council meeting that the duties of the dogcatcher should be re-examined and that the city's dogcatcher, Billy Wayne Crosby, should do something about the dog problem.

Maxwell prefaced his remarks by telling the aldermen that he had received numerous complaints of dogs chasing and biting children and overturning garbage cans.

In another matter to come before the board, the aldermen authorized the transfer of Joe Brown from police dispatcher to regular patrolman.

Oscar Lyons requested that the board consider a black person to fill the next school board vacancy. Lyons' request comes one week after the board appointed Maurice Westovich to a five-year term as school board member to replace O. K. Lion whose term expired next month.

Lyons also asked the board not to forget the black community when applying for the federal funds Long Beach is eligible for under the Community Development Act of 1974.

In a public forum held immediately following the meeting, the board also heard other proposals from the citizens on projects eligible for the federal funding. Long Beach is competing with several cities and three counties for a share of the $225,000 made available under the 1974 act.

House amends debt collection law

An amendment to the state wage garnishment law which would remove the requirement that employers must serve as bill collectors for employees passed the Mississippi House of Representatives by a vote of 104 to 9. Rep. Marby Penton of Ocean Springs, Chairman of the Judiciary B Committee, introduced the bill and steered the measure to passage on the floor.

The bill will now go to the Senate where it must receive approval by March 4.

If the amended bill is approved the employer could continue to handle garnishments as he now does, or he could choose to use a co-endorser plan. Under the co-endorser plan the employee would advise the employer who the co-endorser would be, the creditor, the creditor's attorney or the employee's attorney. The burden of cashing the check, making the legal deductions and disbursements, then falls on the employee and the creditor.

The Senate passed unanimously on a bill introduced by Sen. Nap Cassidy of Gulfport to provide unemployment compensation to military retirees immediately upon retirement. Supporters of the bill contend that such compensation will be paid by the federal government and not by state employers. The Senate also approved a bill introduced by Joe Maxcy of Aberdeen which changed the present eligibility procedure for voluntary leaves of absence to read "with permission of his employer."

Two bills died on the calendar this week, one a proposal for a new state agency to enforce all labor laws and a second to create a one-year statute of limitations on unwritten contracts of employment.

Port and Harbor considers extension

Extension of the option agreement between Borg-Warner Chemical Corp. and the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission will be the main order of business at the commission meeting tonight in Bay St. Louis. Port Director Wilson Webre said the extension of the agreement, which expires Feb. 26, is in transit, but he said he hopes it will arrive in time for the meeting tonight.

Webre was granted his request before the Hancock County Board of Supervisors Monday for a recessed meeting to be held Feb. 24 to approve renewal of the agreement. The extension became necessary when the commission was blocked in its negotiations with International Paper Company over 200 acres of land next to Port Bienville industrial park which is needed by Borg-Warner for a multi-million dollar plastics plant. An eminent domain hearing to resolve the situation is set for March 24.

The extension agreement is for one year, but Webre said that if the suit could be concluded before that time, the new plant will not be delayed for that long.

The extension will provide an additional $50,000 bringing the total to $75,000 in options to be applied to the purchase of the disputed land.

Supervisors hear River findings

An environmental study of the Jourdan River conducted by a research team from Mississippi State University last September shows the river to be lacking the necessary quantities of major nutrients to support the fisheries resource. Conclusions of the study were presented at the Hancock County Board of Supervisors meeting Monday in a letter from Wendell J. Lorio, Director of the Mississippi State University Research Center.

Lorio noted in his letter that the Jourdan River is subject to extremes in pH due to the acidity of the soil, the quantities of tannic acid compounds in the watershed and underground springs that feed the system. The high acidity creates a hostile environment for the fish population, he said.

In a second letter read at the supervisors meeting, from Fisheries Biologist, Jack Herring, said that the excellent fishery of the past depended upon a supply of food organisms in the estuary area. This area has been almost completely destroyed, however, by channelization and shoreline development, the letter said.

"A small coastal river with its estuary destroyed and its upper reaches highly infertile probably has a rather bleak future," Herring concludes.

JSU offers new graduate degree

The political science department at Jackson State University is offering a new graduate degree in political science along with the Bachelor of Arts degree announced department head, Dr. Leslie Burl McLemore.

The new graduate degree is unique in a number of ways, having a strong orientation in American and African-American politics. In fact, attests Dr. McLemore, it is the only masters degree program in political science in the state of Mississippi that offers a strong orientation in Black politics and related sub-areas.

The related sub-areas are theory and philosophy, American government and politics, state and local government, urban politics, public administration, comparative government and politics, international relations and law, international organizations, and Black politics and legal studies.

The faculty members include Mrs. Taunya Banks, legal studies; Dr. Pius Eze, international relations and politics; Dr. James C. Harvey, American government and Civil Rights and legislation; West Lindsey, Jr., political philosophy and theory; George T. Mitchell, methodology and political behavior; Dr. Michael Zifcak, international relations, law and organization, and comparative government; and Dr. Leslie McLemore, Black politics, state and local government, and American politics.

For admittance to the M.A. degree program in political science, the requirements are an adequate background in political sciences and acceptance by the Jackson State University Graduate School. Prospective students with an undergraduate major and minor in a field other than political science may enroll in the program but some may be required to complete one or more under-graduate type courses in political science as a basis for further study in this discipline. Each case is considered separately.

Teaching and/or research assistantships are available that cover some or all tuition costs. The assistantships require a set number of hours per week in work supervised by a faculty member.

Applications for admission, catalogues, or circulars may be obtained from Dr. Leslie McLemore, head of the political science department or Dr. Michael Zifcak coordinator of graduate studies for the political science department.

Herring named star student

Steven Herring has been selected as Coast Episcopal High School's Star student for 1974-75 by the Mississippi Economic Council. Steve is the son of Mr. M. R. Herring and Mrs. Joan R. Herring, and he intends to study Foreign Affairs or Economics at either Georgetown University or Millsaps. Anticipating his field of study, Steven has spent two and one half months in France while participating in the Youth for Understanding Student Exchange Program. He is currently Vice President of the National Honor Society at Coast Episcopal and was selected as an Outstanding Teenager of America. He has been an honor student consistently throughout high school.

Steven has selected Mrs. Gerald Keatinge as Star Teacher for her major contribution to his education. Mrs. Keatinge teaches English, Speech, and Drama at CEHA. Mrs. Keatinge graduated from the University of California at Berkeley and has done graduate work at Long Island University and the University of Southern Mississippi.

Fayard's pride

Bay St. Louis Fire Chief Richard Fayard climbs aboard the department's new 750 gallon fire engine purchased recently with revenue sharing funds.

Bay fire unit purchases engine

The Bay St. Louis Fire Department has recently purchased a second fire truck, a 1974 Ford three-man tilt cab, for $33,300. The new engine has a water capacity of 750 gallons and a pumping capacity of 1,000 gallons per minute.

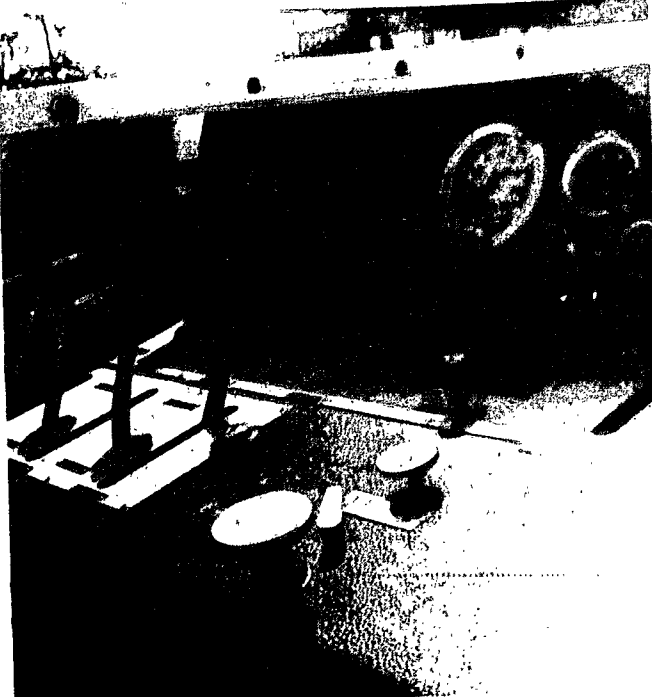

The addition of the new engine will bring the city fire protection to a class six rating for fire insurance and was purchased with revenue sharing funds at no cost to the taxpayers, Fire Chief Richard Fayard said Friday.

Fayard listed several of the features on the new truck which are an improvement over the first engine. The truck has a top control panel which gives the operator a full view of the fire making it easier to bring it under control swiftly. It also has high rise side compartments providing more carrying space for fire-fighting equipment.

As a special safety feature, the breathing apparatus on the truck is hung so that it is easier for the firemen to reach easily instead of being contained in closed compartments as on the older model. The truck also carries four lines of first aid equipment including a resuscitator.

Chief Fayard said that the truck has been taken out on trial runs on several occasions, and although it has not yet been used in an actual emergency, all new features on the truck have shown top performance.

Top control panel

The new Bay St. Louis fire engine features a top control panel which enables the operator to have a full view of the fire.

Greater safety

The breathing apparatus in the new fire engine is located in a more convenient spot for easier operation.

Pass drainage draws public response

Drainage improvements throughout the city of Pass Christian drew the largest response at a public forum Thursday attended by members of the Community Development Committee, the city council, and about 50 concerned citizens. The meeting was the second in a series of public forums to determine the city's needs and priorities and to help the city earn a share of the $225,000 made available under the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974.

Jack Different, the city's technical advisor on this project, gave a slide presentation to inform those attending what the program is designed to do.

The program was designed to eliminate federal categorical grants and to give the cities more of a voice in determining their own needs and priorities by going directly to the people.

Pass Christian is competing against Long Beach, Bay St. Louis, Waveland, Wiggins, as well as Hancock, Harrison, and Stone counties for a share of the federal money.

The other general areas of concern other than drainage that are being considered by the city council and the seven-member Community Development Committee are as follows: sewers, construction of a multi-purpose community center for youth and senior citizen activity, revitalization of the business district, road improvements, gas service extension, playground and recreational facilities, and the development of walkways and bike paths for school children.

No definite priority system has yet been established, and the city has scheduled 7 p.m. tonight as the time for the third public meeting to hear more suggestions. The city must make its pre-application no later than March 1 to be eligible for the federal grant program.

General Crude, IP announce merger

The merger of General Crude Oil Company with International Paper Company was announced this week by J. Stanford-Smith, IP chairman of the board and chief executive officer. The Houston, Tex., based oil and gas exploration and production company became a wholly-owned subsidiary of International Paper following approval of the merger proposal at a special meeting of General Crude share owners.

"General Crude's technological expertise can now be applied to development of oil and gas potential under IP lands at a time when the national energy policy has placed a high priority on exploration and development of resources in the United States," said Smith.

The IP chairman said that General Crude is engaged in the exploration, acquisition, development and operation of crude oil and natural gas properties.

Kenneth E. Montague, president of General Crude, said that the U.S. Gulf Coast region is one of General Crude's major areas of gas and oil exploration and that International Paper's extensive acreage nearby in Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and Florida can facilitate extension of General Crude's exploration activities.

CARE organizes "empty plate" fund

CARE World Hunger Fund has recently announced a new nationwide "Empty Plate" campaign to raise funds for hungry people in many areas of the world. The agency is asking Americans to skip one meal a week for the rest of the year and send the food dollars saved to the fund.

"In anticipation of Americans' generous response to the 'EMPTY PLATE' campaign, CARE is purchasing, initially, an additional eight million pounds of wheat, beans and other foods for immediate shipment overseas. We stand ready to rush all the emergency food and food-growing aid funds enable us to supply to the areas where they are most desperately needed. Estimates are that more than 10,000 men, women and children are dying of starvation every day. The lives of many, many millions more hang in the balance," said Executive Director Frank L. Goffio.

One example of CARE aid which will be expanded with additional funds is the India CARE project which provides nourishing food daily to over 10 million children and also helps run irrigation, flood control, tank fishery, land reclamation and other Food-For-Work projects. Experience shows that for each pound of grain CARE pays the workers, these agriculture-related projects lead to four more pounds of food grown the first year.

In Niger, in addition to continuing distribution of survival foods, vitamins and medicines, CARE provides materials, equipment and instruction for such self-help food-growing projects as fish farm ponds, forestation to combat soil erosion, water-supply and irrigation.

Contributions and "EMPTY PLATE" pledges should be mailed to CARE WORLD HUNGER FUND, 2581 Piedmont Road, N.E., Suite 23-A, Atlanta, Georgia 30324. "EMPTY PLATE" campaign materials are also available for persons who would like to help spread the idea in their neighborhood, church, school, organization or place of business.

Colling's Corner

By E.S. Colling

Among the Mardi Gras maskers last week were a number of bedecked "Indians". Which reminded us that, while we have written much about Indian activities in Mississippi, we have not said a great deal about the Indians themselves.

The several small tribes which roamed the Bay of St. Louis and the so-called Pearl River country were apparently always on the move, building ramshackle villages of a few huts and tepees which they abandoned after a few months. The chiefs and other important men of each tribe held an intertribal meeting, usually twice a year.

According to the Reverend Joseph Bullen, the first Presbyterian missionary to the Mississippi Indians, these people are very effeminate and "dressed", quite a different person than his northern brother, as pictured in today's "western" movies. His head, writes Rev. Bullen in his daily Journal, is bound with a handkerchief, over it is a thick binding of furred cloth "covered with broaches; to the nose hang six bobs; one in each ear; the outer curl of which is slit and entwined in silver. One bunch of hair is tied on the top of the head, to which is fastened... the hair of a deer's tail, colored red; this hangs over the face and eyes. The face is painted with streaks and spots of red and black; the beard is pulled out; the neck adorned with a dozen strings of beads of different sorts, besides a silk handkerchief; the arms and wrists adorned with silver bands... The men have a bunch of white feathers fastened to the back part of the neck, and if a person of note, a black feather; and lest the dress or coloring should be discomposd, carries his glass in his pocket or hanging to his side.

Rev. Bullen's Journal describes meetings and dances of the Indians on special occasions, such as the annual Eagle Tail dance where "they dance and sing and drum through the night, and feast in the morning. The chiefs attend and smoke, but do not dance. There is a small land turtle here, called terrapin, the shell of which, filled with gravel, serves the young ladies as ornaments to the legs and adds to the melody a grating sound, though in this instance, most of them were covered down to the feet with a callico petticoat."

A future to mold

Editor's note: The sign of the American Eagle will mark a special column to appear weekly in the Echo on this page in observance of our community's bicentennial efforts.

The first meeting of the Bicentennial committee of Hancock County was held Sunday at St. Stanislaus College with Brother Pierre St. Pierre, school president and committee co-ordinator presiding.

"A past to honor, a future to mold" was selected as the Bicentennial theme. A beautification and clean-up campaign, as well as an anti-vandalism campaign was established immediately. A suggestion was made by Waveland Mayor John Longo that the cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland operate separately on their endeavor to enforce anti-litter and vandalism ordinances. Longo also stressed the importance of displaying the flag and expressed a desire to see American flags on display at all public facilities as well as at businesses.

The Bicentennial committee also formulated plans for a fireworks display, tree planting, history essay contests and other school related activities, parades and work toward a permanent display of artifacts of Hancock County.

Members of the Bicentennial Committee include Hancock County Chancery Clerk John Rutherford, county supervisor Jimmy Travira, county sanitation officer Louis Fernandez, Bay St. Louis Mayor Warren Carver, Commissioner Lucien Kidd, Waveland Mayor John Longo, teacher Emily DeMontuzin, business woman Margaret Shadoin, DAR representative Joe Pilet, Altrusa representative Jeannette Monti, Chamber of Commerce president Perry Gibson, Hancock Historical Association representative Peggy Gibbons, United Funds representative Virginia Wagner, Diamondhead representatives Paul Montjoy and Mrs. Kay Gex.

"I thought we were gonna' air his dirty laundry, not ours!"

Our Readers Write

Dear Editor:
Would you please explain the efficiency of our city government?

Example:
Place - Spanish Acres. Subject: Drainage ditches.
"The drainage system - particularly where the ditch system ends - is useless. No water ever drains into it. The citizens complain of the water on the streets. Mayor's solution - dig the ditch deeper. No water still ever drains into the ditch. Citizens complain of water. Solution: dig the ditches deeper. Result: the property lots are getting smaller and smaller - washing away; not because of the water in the ditch but because of the cliff runoff from the top of the property."

Citizen complains of lot being destroyed. Mayor will send somebody out. To do what? You guessed it! To dig out the ditch!

Mrs. Karl Vinot
608 Spanish Acres

P.S.
Guess whose tax money they're using every time they undermine my property!

Why call us Boola, Boola, when we are representing our beautiful black. We were described as Royalty and Wild Natives... Why only wild life? Our theme was Masquerade in foreign lands. Isn't Africa a Foreign Land? Why say wild natives roam the streets... What is Carnival, but fun time. We had many countries represented. We only saw one native in the paper. Triton's pictures were all over a page, and only Boola-Boola for we blacks. We are tired, you've done it again, you really mean to make black not beautiful.

"But as you want it - how about not saying anything, if nothing good."

We had Holland, Japan, Mexico, Hawaii and Honolulu represented. Why do you Lilly White folks try to mess over us. We are tired of it, and have been for a long time.

Quit writing if you can't tell it like it "tis".

Mr. Thomas Farve
Ms. Clementine Williams
Sycamore St.
Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Dear Sir:

This is just to inform, of what I read in the news, not long ago; the tyrannical Federal Bureaucracy, with more of its paternalistic concern, plans to administer strict controls over the widely used, tranquilizers, Valium and Librium, requiring only five refills, then prescription renewal, under government order; means more money for office visits, with added inconvenience.

Hoffman LaRoche, resisted controls for seven years, and finally gave up and agreed to the new regulations. These drugs are used to treat anxiety, tension, to relieve muscle spasms, also alcohol withdrawal, according to the news article.

This new order remains open for public comment or objections, from those who wish to be heard on this new restrictive drug issue. The deadline is March 28, so all of you patients, whose doctors have prescribed Valium or Librium, better hurry and write these Bureaucrats, and tell them why you need these drugs and the beneficial effects resulting from them. Competent doctors know what we need, or they would not prescribe them.

It's a pity how the conservative law abiding citizens, using restraint and caution, have to be deprived and penalized for the over indulgence and weakness of a certain element of our society, bordering on addiction and domestic criminality. The address to write, as follows: Office of the Administrative Law Judge, Drug Enforcement Administration, Dept. of Justice, Room 1130 - 1405 Eye St. N. W. Washington D. C. 20537. According to the Brochure I have, they want to hear from you.

Thanking you kindly, Mr. Hall, for publication of this message.

Eleanor E. McFie
Waveland, Miss. 39576

Most of us were brought up around one another, blacks and white together. Instead of bucking one another, each in the opposite direction, we should try to support one another.

This letter is concerning the ugly write-up about the black parade. I feel this way, if you don't understand us, don't knock us. We enjoy letting our hair down, as we blacks call it. Isn't that what Carnival is all about? If you had been there and actually took time to view our parade, you would have admit that it was beautiful, and not just Boola, Boola, as the Sea Coast Echo described it.

We should have been recognized in the same manner as Triton's Crew, with a display of floats and our King and Queens pictures.

Ms. Ellen M. Williams
Webster Street
Bay St. Louis, Miss.

It seems as if J. D. McCulloch is determined not to do right. He was contacted by mail last year and again this year to have the band participate in our (Merrymakers) parade. Do you think he gave us the courtesy to respond? Why certainly not.

We did see the Bay High Band stepping lively in Triton's parade. Why was their invitation accepted and for two years we could not even get a reply?

We not only get stepped on by newspaper coverage but we also get rejected by the so called community leaders, whose responsibility should be fair play for all concerned.

Washington Report

ANOTHER DEFICIT BUDGET

When the federal budget cracked $200 billion in 1971, you could literally see the sweat breaking out on this nation's fiscal conservatives.

When it hit $300 billion in 1975, I'm sure our hearts skipped several beats. And we still haven't recovered from last week's announcement that the Fiscal Year 1976 budget of $349 billion contains an estimated $52 billion DEFICIT that could go as high as $70 billion!

That 1976 budget, my friends, is $4.6 billion -- or 12.8 per cent -- more than the current budget of $304.4 billion. Still, perhaps we should be thankful that we're talking about 1976 and not about 1978, when -- according to the projections -- the federal budget will break past the $400 billion mark!

As unbelievable as it sounds, we're talking about a deficit of more than $100 billion over a two-year period (1975-76). Like many of my fiscal-minded colleagues in the House, I wonder if our monetary system can stand it.

There must be a point, we tell ourselves, when the sheer weight of the system will bring it tumbling down on our pointed heads.

Let's take a brief look at how that 1976 budget dollar will be raised. Then, just for the fun of it, let's see where we will spend it.

First, we're looking at a projected income of no more than $297.5 billion, which is raised through a system of taxes. Taxes on individual incomes constitute the bulk of that figure, some $106.3 billion. The rest will be gathered from taxes on corporate earnings ($47.7 billion), payroll taxes ($91.6 billion), excise taxes ($32.1 billion), estate and gift taxes ($4.6 billion), and other federal income ($15.2 billion).

Keep that $297.5 billion figure in mind, for we're going to try to make it swell to $349.4 billion, which is the level of projected expenditures.

National defense, they tell us, will take something like $94 billion. Social Security benefits will take $74.4 billion. The next highest is the interest we pay on the federal debt, $34.4 billion.

Veterans Information

Q - I just received an honorable discharge after two years of military duty. I hear the Veterans Administration provides free GI Bill benefits for veterans like me who didn't finish high school. Is that true?

A - Yes, and the assistance won't be charged against your basic entitlement. Suggest you apply to the VA regional office in your state.

Q - What are some of the advantages of GI home loans? I had three years of military service before my discharge two years ago, and I am thinking of applying for this benefit from the Veterans Administration.

A - Because VA guarantees 60 per cent of loans -- up to $17,500, whichever is less -- downpayments are either small or not required, and there usually is a long repayment period with no penalty for early repayment. Also, VA appraises the house before purchase to determine its reasonable value.

Q - I've been out of military service six months, but can't find a job. What suggestions does the Veterans Administration have?

A - Visit your local state employment service office and take your DD Form 214 with you. If a job is not available, you will be allowed to apply for unemployment compensation. You also should check your regional VA office and U. S. Veterans Assistance Center if you are close to them.

Q - I bought a house in 1954 with a maximum loan guaranty of $7,500 from the Veterans Administration. Since the Veterans Housing Act of 1974 increased the loan guaranty from $12,500 to $17,500, am I eligible for more entitlement?

A - Yes. You would be eligible for the $17,500 guaranty if you sold your home and paid the GI loan in full.

Q - I'm a veteran drawing compensation from the Veterans Administration for a 30 per cent service-connected disability. I'll be 65 and retired soon, and wonder if I can waive compensation and switch to pension?

A - Yes, if you apply to VA and it is to your advantage. The agency will determine this based on information you provide, and pay you the higher benefit.

Q - My husband has just retired after 20 years in military service. Am I eligible for CHAMPVA, the Veterans Administration health care program?

A - No, but military retirees and their dependents are eligible for a similar program of health care, CHAMPUS. Suggest you have your husband check with military sources for details.

Social Security

Metal or plastic cards sold by some manufacturers are no substitute for official Medicare cards, according to Charles E. Wofford, social security district manager in Gulfport.

"The Social Security Administration mails official Medicare cards to people who have the protection," Wofford said. "You should always show your official card when you receive services covered by Medicare. It's a good idea to carry your Medicare card when you're away from home. If you lose it, you should immediately ask the people at any social security office to get you a new one."

Medicare helps pay the health care expenses of people 65 and over, of disabled people who have been entitled to social security disability benefits for 24 consecutive months or more, and of many people with chronic kidney disease.

The program is explained in detail in Your Medicare Handbook.

Waveland resident explores Bacchus Krewe

SPECIAL TO THE ECHO

For the seventh time this past carnival season Bacchus, the rebel of New Orleans Mardi Gras krewe, paraded down St. Charles.

Many New Orleanians contend that it draws a bigger crowd than Mardi Gras day activities. It is large, gaudy, always innovative, and the object of a great deal of attention.

In 1973 when Bob Hope was Bacchus V, he devoted his entire television special on the following week to the parade and Mardi Gras. It brought the "young upstart" to national attention. Now Bacchus is the subject of a book and destined for more notoriety.

BACCHUS, written by Waveland resident, Myron Tassin, has taken the colorful krewe and combined into one glossy picture filled book a concise well-ordered history of the krewe and numerous incidents and anecdotes that have occurred while working with the various kings.

Tassin has edited THE LAST LINE, a book promoting preservation of the St. Charles streetcar in New Orleans, and THE DELTA QUEEN: LAST OF THE PADDLEWHEEL PALACES. In August his next book, GRAND OLE LADY: THE GRAND OLE OPRY will be released. This book co-authored with a professor at Tennessee Tech, will examine the country music phenomenon and will help commemorate the 50th anniversary of the Grand Ole Opry.

Tassin, a graduate of the LSU School of Journalism, is now a private public relations consultant. Since his clients and research sources are primarily in New Orleans, he and his family recently moved to Waveland, Mississippi, to be near his work.

When asked why he decided to write a book on Bacchus, Tassin stated that there were no historical files on the successful organization. He was also convinced the book would sell because people like Bacchus simply because it is a people oriented krewe. Above all, he was fascinated by its rapid ascent to prominence. Tassin began by researching sources and interviewing the founding fathers.

What resulted from Tassin's work was BACCHUS, a unique contribution to a krewe surrounded by notoriety and brave enough to break with tradition. The book brings it all together in a most attractive presentation.

formation of an organization to maintain continual watch on the city and its appearance. Richards said that this second phase would remedy any problems that may arise after the initial phase of the campaign.

Richards also discussed a ticketing program where Senior Citizens would report litterers to the police who would then issue a warning to a first offender. Richards also noted that the city's school campuses needed cleaning and he made an appeal to the students to help with this part of the cleanup.

Groups were also appointed to look into the problems of unkempt vacant lots and littered parking lots.

Richards, who is one of the city's aldermen, told the audience that he intends to introduce in the near future a stronger city ordinance that would apply to vacant lots.

The next meeting of the project committee, members and interested citizens is set for Tuesday at 7 p.m. Bobby Spayde is the project's elected secretary.

Clean Sweep project outlined by Richards

At an organizational meeting in Long Beach Monday night, March 1-8 was designated as the dates for Operation Clean Sweep, the city-wide cleanup campaign.

Project coordinator Bob Richards said that the program will be divided into two phases. The first phase will consist of a general cleanup of the city, ridding the streets of trash and litter. The second phase will be the

Northeast initiates program

Governor Bill Waller has initiated a new construction trainee program for Northeast Mississippi Junior College in Booneville under the national Comprehensive Employment and Training Act. Construction students of the college will be given on-the-job training in the construction of a permanent building in Corinth, Miss., to be used as a facility for future CETA training programs.

"The project is an effort to do something innovative," said Dr. Milton Baxter, Executive Director of the Governor's Office of Education and Training. "Most of the time, in a training project like this, a small structure is built for teaching purposes and then torn down. This building, though, will be put to immediate and effective long-term use."

The site for the building was donated by the Corinth Chamber of Commerce to the City of Corinth for use of the junior college. Dr. Baxter said location of the project was especially appropriate at this time, since unemployment in Alcorn County currently stands at 15.8 percent according to Mississippi Employment Security Commission figures. He said the funds flowing to Northeast Mississippi for this project will relieve the high unemployment problem. The program calls for the training of 40 production machine operators, and 40 other workers in the "house builder" categories.

Arts league plans spring show

The Pearl River Arts League has completed plans for its 1975 Spring Arts Show to be held March 8-9 at St. Paul's Episcopal Parish Hall in Picayune. The show includes an Open Art Competition for any artist along the Pearl River.

All entries to the competition must be original work executed within the last two years. The work must not have hung previously in public, and must be dry, framed and ready for hanging with screw eyes and picture wire only.

The entries should be delivered personally to St. Paul Episcopal Parish Hall by Friday morning, March 7 from 8 - 10 a.m.

Visitors to the show may purchase art on display by obtaining a purchase award in any amount over $35 from any member of the league. The purchase award will be delivered to buyers by March 17.

College study offered

The U. S. Army has announced a plan called Project AHEAD that enables young people to start college at the same time they enlist in the Army.

According to LTC Chetwin M. Hurd, Commander, Jackson District Recruiting Command, individuals who qualify apply to one of over 800 participating institutions. The college serves as an academic file-holder. The soldier-student attends classes provided by accredited colleges right on post or near his place of assignment.

"In the course of his Army career, the individual may attend classes offered by any number of colleges," LTC Hurd said. "His 'home' school keeps a record of his credits for review when he returns as a veteran."

An academic advisor at the "home" school assists the individual in developing a program of education.

"Project AHEAD is a program that benefits everybody involved — the young people, the colleges and the Army," the Colonel emphasized.

WPUP vocalist

Jay Heitzman, disc jockey at WPUP in Bay St. Louis, has cut his first album entitled "Spend Some Time With Me". He performs locally with Us, a band specializing in a variety of popular and country music.

Local disc jockey featured in album

Local disc jockey Jay Heitzman for Bay St. Louis radio station WPUP has recently cut his first album featuring a variety of country and popular music selections. Heitzman performs locally as a vocalist with the band Us, who provide the background for the new album, "Spend Some Time With Me."

Heitzman is a songwriter and arranger, as well as a singer. Two of his compositions are featured on the album, the title song and "When the Master Knocks on My Door." His past experience in the music field includes singing jobs with bands from all over the country including the Dixie Revelers, who performed recently in Las Vegas' Golden Nuggett. Heitzman attributes his success in country music to his experience with the Dixie Revelers who have played with such national stars as Loretta Lynn, Porter Wagoner and Merle Haggard.

"I guess the greatest thing for any musician is to cut an album of his own," said Heitzman. "A lot of people don't realize the amount of work involved in putting out an album like this. I get really aggravated when a couple of guys get together and say they are going to cut an album. It takes a lot more than that, you really have to have someone who knows their music."

The album will be distributed in a very limited area. Because of printing costs, only 500 copies are available for distribution. Heitzman said he feels that the group will have little difficulty selling the album locally because of the popularity of the group on the coast and because one of the songs on the album, "He's the Cause of It All," was written by a Waveland resident, the late George Wedemeyer.

"This album was not designed to sell a million copies," the vocalist said, "it is just to get recognition for the talent I have acquired from the Lord above."

ETV plans prison documentary

The Mississippi Educational Television Network (ETV), the Division of Drug Misuse in Jackson, and the Mississippi State Penitentiary at Parchman are planning a one hour historical documentary about Parchman to be filmed sometime during the early spring.

According to Michael Rubenstein of the Division of Drug Misuse, instigator of the proposed film, the documentary would cover not only Parchman from a historical standpoint, but would also cover other areas of the penitentiary such as rehabilitation programs which include Alcoholics Rehabilitation, Family Visitation, and the Conjugal Visiting program. Rubenstein will also film "a day in the life" of an inmate.

Homosexuality, always a problem at any prison, is also scheduled to be discussed in the documentary, along with new housing facilities and overcrowded conditions that exist at Parchman.

Rubenstein and the Public Relations staff at Parchman are currently in the process of uncovering information concerning past history of Parchman, its past superintendents, and other human interest stories dealing with Parchman.

A date for the film has not been set as yet, but plans to begin filming are tentatively set for sometime during March.

the performing arts

By J. Carroll Booker

It seems that New Orleans, the city that "gave birth to the blues," has rightfully earned the nickname of "Little Egypt." Such names as Fats Domino, Louis Armstrong, Little Richard, Pete Fountain, Al Hirt, have all utilized the availability of the New Orleans sound in an extraordinarily commercial sense. For the past ten years, New Orleans has not been the recording center that it was prior to the early sixties, when such "out-of-town" celebrities as Ray Charles, Big Joe Turner, Etta James and Cannonball Adderley came to town for the express purpose of recording with the New Orleans "Funky Rhythm Sound."

Over the past few years, duplication and imitation of the crescent city style has found its way into the studios of America's major cities, and the musicians of northern areas have acquired through careful observation and practice a reasonable facsimile of the New Orleans style, plus an addition or insertion of their own creative instincts.

Shortly before the Mardi Gras season began, it was announced by most of the media that former Beatle, Paul McCartney would be arriving in the city to start work on a forthcoming album at the newly built "Sea-Saint Recording Studios." The public was informed that auditions would be held at the studios for New Orleans piano players and percussionists in an effort to form a touring group of local musicians for McCartney.

Since then, McCartney has heard and expressed a growing admiration for Roy "Professor Longhair," one of the pioneers of the piano style so closely associated with the crescent city sound, and also Alan Toussaint, who penned the first Al Hirt million seller entitled "Java." Toussaint, one of the co-owners of the Sea-Saint Studios, has already begun work on the album with McCartney, who also brought a few of his own musicians. One of the most popular vocal-instrumental groups in New Orleans is one aggregation known as "The Meters." The group is signed to a recording pact with

Warner Bros. Records, and recorded the soundtrack for the movie, "Black Samson." Their latest hit, "People Say," is already on the national charts of such trade magazines as "Cash Box" and "Billboard." Prior to "People Say" the five-man combo enjoyed hit record success with their version of "Hey Pock-Away," produced by none other than pianist - producer - arranger Alan Toussaint. Toussaint has also done work with Taj Mahal, Maria Muldaur, Labelle, and Harry Nilsson. It seems that New Orleans is showing that opportunity knocks more than once.

Exemptions outlined

The Internal Revenue Service today outlined rules on who may claim an additional tax exemption when more than one person supports a dependent.

Although several persons may share in paying for the support of a dependent, federal law permits only one qualified taxpayer to claim the extra exemption for that dependent, William Daniel, IRS District Director for Mississippi, said.

If a taxpayer does not pay more than half the support, he or she must be part of a group of two or more that contributes over half of the dependent's support, Daniel said. Moreover, each member of the group must meet all other requirements for claiming the exemption himself or herself.

Also, the person claiming the exemption must provide at least 10 percent of the dependent's support.

"Taxpayers other than the one claiming the exemption must then fill out a special declaration—Form 2120, 'Multiple Support Declaration'—stating that they will not claim the exemption. The person claiming the exemption must file these forms with his or her return," he said.

County agent announces acreage survey

Mr. John W. Smith, Extension Agricultural Agent for Hancock County has announced that the second acreage survey of 1975 will soon be conducted by the Mississippi Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. This survey is a follow-up to the Jan. 1 Intentions Survey conducted earlier in the year.

This Acreage Intentions Survey will help to determine if farmers have made or plan to make adjustments in their plans for the 1975 crop year. The results of this survey will give each farmer advance information on what other farmers in Mississippi and all the other states are planning. With this information, farmers will have the opportunity to make any last minute decisions on specific crop acreages they wish to plant in 1975.

March Acreage questionnaires will be mailed to several thousand Mississippi farmers asking for intended acreage data for 1975. Farmers receiving the questionnaire are urged to fill it out as completely as possible and mail it promptly. It is essential that those receiving the questionnaire return it so that all areas of Mississippi will be represented in this survey.

Smith emphasized the importance of this survey and urged the cooperation of all farmers in Hancock County receiving the questionnaire. Results of this survey will be published by the Mississippi Crop and Livestock Reporting Service on March 17.

Stanislaus School plans reunion

A reunion for all former students of the St. Stanislaus Day School will be held Sunday, Feb. 23 from 2-4 p.m. at the St. Stanislaus Student Center.

St. Stanislaus Day School was opened in 1870 by the Brothers of the Sacred Heart. It began as a one-story frame building accommodating about sixty pupils and one teacher. The school closed briefly from 1878-1880, but was reopened and began to expand under the direction of Brother Stephen who came to the school in 1882.

Believer in the "old School" methods, remained at the school until 1896 and stressed more physical force rather than moral persuasion. He gained the nickname of Rip Van Winkle because of his long white beard. Brother Stephen, who died in 1921, will be honored at St. Stanislaus March 15 when he will be inducted into the St. Stanislaus Hall of Fame.

Art auction benefits CEHS

Display of work by famous artists will return by special request to the Downtown Motor Hotel Feb. 22. These works of art will be auctioned for the benefit of Coast Episcopal High School at 7:30 p.m. There will be a reception and exhibition at 6:30 p.m. The works of art are owned and auctioned by Collier Art Corporation. Admission is free and a door prize will be given away.

Hobbs to address retirees

Harrison County Sheriff Leroy Hobbs will address the National Association of Retired Federal Employees Chapter 209 in Mississippi City this morning at 11:30 a.m. Hobbs will speak on "Crime and Home Protection." Delegates to the state convention to be held in Greenville in May will be selected at this meeting.

Chamber nixes booth

At a sparse turnout Tuesday of its February breakfast meeting, the board of directors of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce heard a report on the Mississippi Travel Show '75 and then decided against having a booth at the travel show in Jackson.

Board member Cecil Dubuisson pointed out that "Long Beach is a business-residential community. We are not in the tourist business." Dubuisson said that Long Beach brochures would still be available at the travel show even though the chamber did not purchase a booth. In other business, the board finalized the 1974 budget and adopted the 1975 budget.

Board member Gladys Budd resigned from the board, and Bill Fennell was appointed to fill the vacancy.

The chamber also tabled consideration of renting a sign for the Babe Ruth league, and several members suggested a re-evaluation of the chamber's present policies in regards to playgrounds.

BIRTHPLACE OF PECAN VARIETIES

Ocean Springs, Mississippi, is known as the birthplace of the improved pecans. Stuart, Success, Disirable, Dependable, Forkert, Jackson, and many more of the better varieties originated from nurseries there at the close of the 19th century.

Miss Castelin named Betty Crocker winner

Regina Castelin has been named 1974-75 Betty Crocker Family Leader of Tomorrow for Coast Episcopal High School. Miss Castelin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Castelin of Pass Christian, is now eligible for state and national honors, and will receive a special award from General Mills, sponsor of the annual educational scholarship program.

State Family Leaders of Tomorrow are eligible for scholarships ranging from $500 to $1500. State winners and their faculty advisers will be guests of General Mills on a tour to Washington and Williamsburg, Va. During the tour, announcement of the National State Family Leader will be made. The winner will receive $5000; 2nd, 3rd, and 4th place winners will receive scholarships of $4,000, $3,000, and $2,000 respectively.

Miss Castelin is secretary of the National Honor Society and was selected for the Who's Who Among American High School Students. She is active in drama and is currently starring as Fiona in the upcoming musical "Brigadoon." In her junior year she was vice-president of the Mississippi Junior Academy of Science and a delegate to Girls' State. She is a member of the girls' basketball team and of the annual staff.

Youth still critical after electrical shock

A Long Beach youth is still listed in critical condition in Gulfport Memorial Hospital after making contact with a 7,000-volt power line near the corner of Demorelle Road and Espy Avenue, north of Pass Christian.

Michael Brewer, 18, of 117 Marcie Drive, Long Beach sustained first and second degree burns Friday night when he was climbing a pole and came too close to the wire.

Harrison County Sheriff's Captain Sylvester Alexander was approached by Benton Evins, 18, of 440 Russell Blvd., Long Beach who informed Alexander that Brewer had received serious electrical shock in nearby woods.

Brewer was transported to Gulfport Memorial Hospital by Mobile Medic.

Juveniles charged

Three Long Beach juveniles were arrested last week and charged with possession of stolen property, allegedly taken from the home of Mrs. Jane P. Lassiter, 106 Peach Park.

Long Beach Investigator Ken Pell said the youths—two males, both 17 years, and a 16-year-old female—were taken into custody by the Harrison County Family Court.

Mrs. Lassiter told police that jewelry and a box of pennies, together valued between $500 and $1,000 were taken from her home Tuesday.

Police said the house was ransacked, and entry appeared to be through the rear door.

Pell said the investigation is continuing.

Former resident honored

The Bronze Medal for exceptional achievement has been awarded by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to Albert Pressman of Diamondhead, former scientist at the NASA, Mississippi, Test Facility. Pressman is now chief of the Remote Sensing Branch of EPA's National Environmental Research Center in Las Vegas.

Pressman and the nine members of his staff fly aerial photographic and infrared scanner missions throughout the country to locate and document sources of water, air and land pollution and to determine its effects on the environment.

MR. & MRS. JAMES CHILDRESS

Merritt-Childress

Miss Kathryn Merritt, daughter of Mrs. Eddie Hale of Clayton, La., and James Kelly Childress, son of Mrs. R. H. Harden, Birmingham, Ala., were married February 14 at Ramada Inn poolside, Waveland, with Justice of the Peace Joe Dobson officiating. The bride was given in marriage by E. Burton Kemp III, New Orleans. She wore an off-white princess style gown trimmed with lace insertions and a yellow orchid corsage. Mrs. E. Burton Kemp III attended the bride as matron of honor and Donn Murray, Bay St. Louis, was best man. Following the ceremony a dinner was held at Ramada Inn with Misses Gretchen and Priscilla Kemp presiding at the cake table. Upon their return from a wedding trip the couple will reside in Bay St. Louis.

The dedication ceremony for the highway bicentennial beautification project sponsored by the Bay-Waveland Garden Club will be Saturday, Feb. 22 at 10:30 a.m. The ceremonies will be held on the Highway 90 service lane between Second St. and Dunbar Ave. just off St. Augustine Dr.

Mrs. Paul M. Miller, Arbor Day Chairman of the garden club, will be mistress of ceremonies for the event which marks the 35th anniversary of the club. Other participants in the activities will be Mrs. Cleve Allen, Gulfport, state president of the Garden Clubs of Mississippi, Mrs. Lelyn Nybo, Bay-Waveland Garden Club president, Mrs. Dan M. Russell, civic development chairman, Hancock County Board of Supervisors, Bay St. Louis City Council, City of Waveland Board, Diamondhead Garden Club, Tiger Lily High School Gardeners, Rotary Club, Bay St. Louis American Legion and Legion Auxiliary, Waveland American Legion and Legion Auxiliary, Waveland Jaycees, Bay St. Louis Jaycees, Bay-Waveland Altrusa Club, Hancock Bank, Merchants Bank and Coast Electric Power Association.

Mrs. Lelyn W. Nybo, president discussed the Mississippi Twentieth Annual Garden Seminar held recently in Jackson which she attended along with Mrs. Jan D. Brameyer, Mrs. Clarence Evans and Mrs. Fred Logan. Mrs. Logan discussed the highlights of the seminar which included addresses by prominent authors Mr. Jerry Baker, "America's Master Gardener" and Mr. George W. Smith, noted British author and arranger.

HGH women select delegate

The Hancock General Hospital Women's Auxiliary voted to send Mrs. Elda Duke as the Auxiliary representative to the Mississippi Hospital Association's Southern Regional Workshop to be held March 11. Mrs. Duke will speak on the "Mystery of the Loan Closet."

HGH's Auxiliary has one of the few Loan Closets in the State. The annual auxiliary membership coffee will be held at the home of Mrs. Chevis, 446 Ballentine, Bay St. Louis, March 4 from 10:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. The auxiliary members take this opportunity to invite all those who are interested to attend the coffee and become a member of the organization. Additional Pink Ladies are much needed, and a morning or an afternoon of floor duty at the hospital can be most rewarding for a new member as well as the auxiliary, Mrs. Chevis said.

Mrs. Clarence A. Evans, formerly awards chairman, presented the following awards: Mrs. Maurice George and Mrs. W. Dibrele Jones, 1,000 hour pins; Mrs. Henry Benjamin, 800 hour guard; Miss Alma Parker, 500 hour guard. Mrs. Herman Sylvester was presented her past president's pin at this time also.

The completed list of committee chairmen was announced as follows: candy planting, transplanting and fertilizing with additional suggestions on pruning and the mechanics of planting.

The new Publicity Chairman, Mrs. J. Robert Autenreith, was welcomed and introduced formally to the membership.

A plant cutting and seed exchange was held between members of the organization concluding the meeting followed by refreshments.

stripers, Mrs. G. E. Townsend; gift shop, Mrs. Elda Duke; hospitality, Mrs. Fred Horn; loan closet, Mrs. Maurice Puchot; membership and awards, Mrs. W. Dibrele Jones; memorials, Mrs. A. S.

Millsaps celebrates 85th anniversary

Millsaps College, now in its 85th year, has slated its annual Founders' Day ceremonies for Thursday, Feb. 27.

The traditional observance will get under way with a noon luncheon in the Boyd Campbell Student Center. Featured speaker is Mrs. W. F. Goodman Sr., emerita professor of English.

Mrs. Goodman is a great-niece of Millsaps College's second president, Dr. Alexander Farrar Watkins who headed the Methodist-related liberal arts college from 1912 until 1923. She joined the Millsaps faculty in 1935 and taught at the college for 32 years before her retirement in 1967.

Special guests for the day's events include descendants of Millsaps College's founding trio: Major Reuben Webster Millsaps, Jackson businessman and banker; William Belton Murrah, the first president; and Bishop Charles Betts Galloway.

Descendants of early faculty members and administrators are invited, as are past presidents who are still living. Other guests include past presidents of the Alumni Association, current alumni officers and members of the Board of Trustees of the college.

Entertainment at the luncheon will be by Lynn Pledger of Memphis, a senior majoring in theatre.

Following the luncheon, guests will attend ceremonies in which a wreath will be placed on the tomb of Major Millsaps who is buried on the campus.

Millsaps, founded in 1890, is one of the youngest colleges supported by the United Methodist Church. Classes began at the college in the fall of 1892.

Trinity centerpiece

Sisters, Mrs. Donna Baird and Mrs. A. M. Dantzer, co-chairmen of decorations for the Trinity Valentine's tea, created this centerpiece using an antique from Pink Cottage, home of Mrs. Abby French, the originator of the annual tea. This year the tea was held at Trinity Episcopal Church Feb. 14.

Easter Seal Society begins annual drive

The Mississippi Easter Seal Society is now recruiting volunteer block workers in Bay St. Louis for a Neighbor-to-Neighbor drive to be conducted in March, 1975.

The Easter Seal Neighbor-to-Neighbor drive is a major fund raising event conducted by the Society each year during its annual spring appeal campaign to raise money to help handicapped children and adults in Mississippi.

The Neighbor-to-Neighbor drive differs from door-to-door collections by asking each person to take the responsibility to pass the Easter Seal kit on to their own next door neighbor.

The kits are first mailed by the Easter Seal Society to a volunteer block worker. This volunteer, after receiving the kit, makes his contribution; then takes it to his next door neighbor leaving instructions for that person to do the same. The kit eventually works its way around the block back to the volunteer block worker who then takes it to any branch of Merchants Bank and Trust.

Persons wishing to be a volunteer block worker in Bay St. Louis should contact R. J. Sallinger at 467-9028.

Family celebrates double anniversary

A family gathering was held Feb. 9 at the home of Miss Lillie Jones, Ballentine Street, to celebrate the 54th wedding anniversary of her brother-in-

W.L. Higgins of Mississippi City, Miss.

Joining in the celebration were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Heitzmann Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Piazza, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Griffith, Emile Piazza, Albert Piazza, Mrs. Rene Bermond, and Mrs. Irma Hardy, all of Bay St. Louis; Rev. George Broussard and Mrs. N.J. Wendling, Waveland, Mr. and Mrs. Lamar Bassett, Pascagoula, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Capdepon Jr. and son Wesley, Janice Marie Higgins, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Welsh and son Shawn, and Mrs. Margaret Peterson and daughter Cindy, all of Mississippi City.

Arbor Day dedication set

A very popular phrase today is, "Do your own thing!" Well, "our thing" is BEAUTIFICATION - - the beautification of our Bay-Waveland community. We would like to invite YOU to join with the members of the Bay-Waveland Garden Club and help us "do our thing!"

In celebration of Arbor Day and the Bicentennial of our nation, we are planning an extended program of tree-planting along Highway 90, our front door to visitors from all over the world. This project will begin with a dedication ceremony on February 22nd and continue through the Bicentennial celebration in 1976. During this time, we hope to plant 200 trees for our nation's 200th birthday with many other shrubs and flowers along the five-mile stretch of Highway 90 beginning at the Waveland Hospitality Station and extending to the Bay St. Louis bridge.

Will YOU become a participant in this Bicentennial Beautification program? Please "do your own thing" by planning your own beautification planting of trees, shrubs and flowers on your home grounds or place of business where it may be seen from the street (or highway). If each one of us would plant-up just a little, imagine how beautiful our community would be!

We sincerely hope you will join us in an effort to make our Bay-Waveland area the "beauty spot" of the Mississippi Gulf Coast!

Clyde teaches safety

JA's Clyde the frog performs safety plays

The Bay-Waveland Junior Auxiliary is currently presenting a series of safety plays to children at Bay St. Louis and Waveland elementary schools. The members performed at North Bay Elementary Feb. 18-20 and will perform at Waveland Elementary Feb. 25-27. The plays written by J.A. member, Mrs. Ernest Douglas, are "Safety to and from School", "Safety on the Playground" and "Fire Safety." The plays all feature main character, Clyde the Frog, played by Mrs. Davis Williams and Mrs. Walter J. Gex III.

Mrs. James Woodfin is the chairman of the overall safety project, and Mrs. Danny Howard is the school safety program chairman. Props and hand-outs, safety signs, color sheets and safety slogans are provided by the Mississippi Highway Department.

The group is also sponsoring a bulletin board safety contest which will be judged March 4.

Chicken provides economy dinners

by Martha Gayle Peeler

There is no better way to bring the holidays to a close than with the following recipe, Chicken Chow Mein. This tasty dish is "something different" and it provides an economical way to put leftover chicken (or turkey!) to use.

CHICKEN CHOW MEIN

1 tbsp. margarine, melted
3/4 c. celery, chopped
2 tbsp. green pepper, chopped
1/4 c. chopped onion
1 c. diced chicken
1 can cream of mushroom soup
1/2 c. water-warm
1/2 c. cashew nuts

1 c. milk
1 can chow mein noodles
Saute celery, green pepper and onion in margarine. Mix water, soup and milk together. Add chicken to soup mixture; add cashew nuts, celery, green pepper and onion. Mix in two-thirds can of chow mein noodles. Pour into casserole dish and sprinkle remaining chow mein noodles on top. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Serves 6-8.

Chicken is rich in protein, vitamins, and iron and low in cost. It is versatile, flavorful and low in calories. A 3-ounce portion of skinless broiled chicken breast has only 115 calories.

There is another important reason for cooking chicken. The recipe given below for Mandarin Chicken won for Miss Pam Jones of Holly Springs a trip to the 1974 National Chicken Cooking Contest after winning at the state level.

This recipe along with over 75 other winning recipes from the 1974 Chicken Cooking Contest can be found in the "Silver Anniversary Chicken Cookbook". This cookbook along with pamphlets on chicken buying, care; and cooking may be obtained by writing to Chicken Cookbook, Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce, Box 615, Pascagoula, Miss. 39567.

AARP discusses taxes

Hancock County Tax Assessor George Heitzmann was guest speaker at the American Association of Retired Persons, Hancock Chapter 1114 meeting Monday morning at Valena C. Jones Center.

Mr. Heitzmann discussed Homestead exemptions and explained Senate Bill 2566 which grants exemption to persons over 65 years of age and to totally disabled service connected veterans. Mr. Heitzmann noted persons eligible for this exemption must file annually before April 1. Approximately 1,200 persons, he added, have filed to date.

During the business session conducted by G. T. Moreau, AARP president, it was announced a defensive drivers course with 25 persons participating was recently completed.

Lorne Greene named wildlife chairman

Actor Lorne Greene, who starred in the TV show "Bonanza" for almost 14 years and is now the host-narrator of a televised wildlife show, has been named Honorary Chairman of 1975's National Wildlife Week, to be observed from March 16-22.

"We Care about Wildlife Habitat" will be the theme for the 38th annual observance of the week, first proclaimed by President Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1938 and sponsored since then by the National Wildlife Federation. More than 7 million students, teachers and members of conservation organizations will participate in next month's nationwide observance, according to Thomas L. Kimball, Executive Vice President of the NWF.

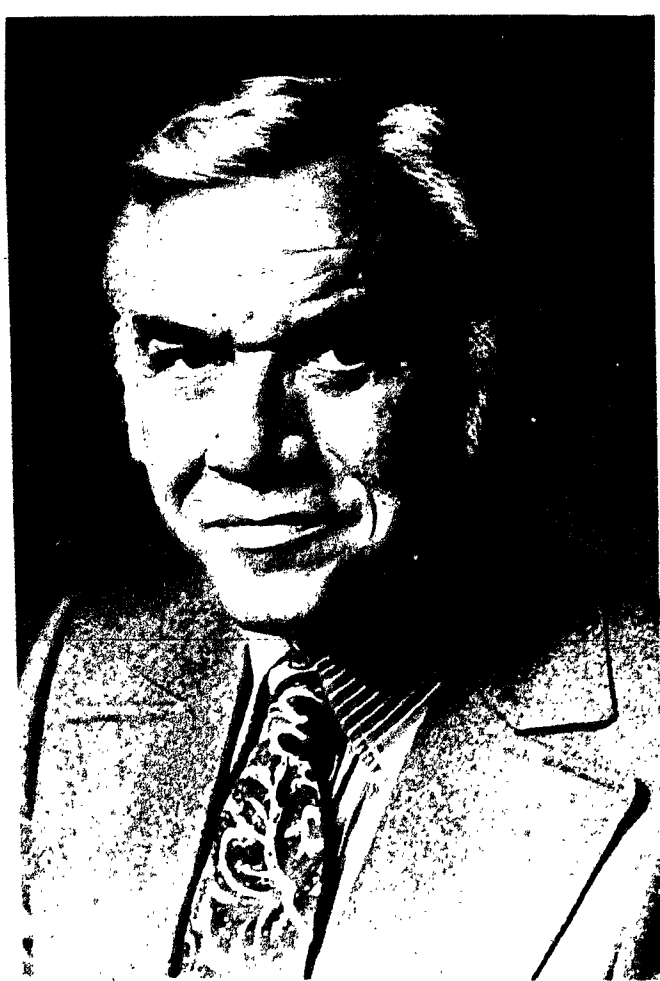

Greene, who has a current wildlife show, "Last of the Wild," was named honorary chairman this year, Kimball said, "because he has demonstrated a deep, genuine interest in the problems of wildlife survival. As a former newsman who 'tells it like it is' and as an actor who commands respect and attention, he is in a unique position to help us spread the word that our wildlife cannot exist without habitat - areas where they can find food, water, and cover - a place to raise their young."

"America's wildlife is a priceless part of our national heritage," Greene said. "It is one of our great inherited natural resources, but if we do not manage it wisely, by providing and protecting living space for wild creatures, then our grandchildren and their grandchildren will not enjoy, as we have, living in a land with an abundant, healthy, and varied wildlife population."

The 3.5 million-member National Wildlife Federation, with affiliate organizations in all 50 states, Guam, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands, will send out some 500,000 posters and more than 150,000 educational kits early next month listing various ways in which organizations and individual citizens can protect and create wildlife habitat.

TOM PFLEEGER

Stanislaus names Star student

St. Stanislaus has selected Tom Pfeeger as a Star Student in the Mississippi Economic Council's student teacher achievement recognition program. James C. Thriffley III was designated the star teacher by Pfeeger.

Pfeeger, son of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Pfeeger, is a senior at St. Stanislaus and was selected on the basis of his scholastic average and his scores on the American College Test. He is an alpha honor roll student and a member of the National Honor Society. He plans to attend the United States Military Academy in West Point to study meteorology.

Thriffley, chairman of the science department at St. Stanislaus, attended Southeastern Louisiana University, Loyola University of the South, and the University of Southern Mississippi where he earned his BA and MEd degrees. He is presently in his ninth year at St. Stanislaus where he teaches physics, math and does counselling. He is a member of the National Science Teachers Association, and he was named the Bay St. Louis Jaycees Outstanding Young Educator in 1973.

Mixed pups available

Bay-Waveland Humane Society, Inc., announced it has one male part beagle, a part miniature Airedale and several young puppies at the Waveland shelter, Spruce Street, in need of homes. Puppies will be available for adoption March 15. Adoption day is Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m.

State Farm person to person health insurance

It can make you feel better.

At State Farm, person to person health insurance re-creates that old-fashioned idea of personal attention. Yet it helps protect against today's soaring medical costs. It can even make sure you get money to help meet those extra hospital expenses. Or an income if you're disabled. Let me show you how.

Ole Miss to operate educational television

UNIVERSITY, Miss. — The University of Mississippi began operations this month of the state's only university operated television station, UM-TV 12, after an agreement between Oxford Video Cable Co. and the university.

The accord enables the complete wiring of the University for cable TV reception and its program origination sites.

The newly acquired Channel 12 will telecast throughout the University and Oxford. "The new station and the programs of our Media Center will enable us to employ the most innovative techniques of the medium to enhance instructional programs, improve the quality of life on campus and services to students, and enhance resources throughout our community and, in future years, throughout Mississippi," said Chancellor Porter L. Fortune.

UM-TV 12 will telecast education, University and general interest programs including News magazine 12, Sportscope, Travelure, Dimensions in Culture, and Sesame Street, according to Dr. David Guerra, director of Radio-TV at Ole Miss and acting station manager.

The new TV station will be on-the-air Sunday through Friday from 6:30 p.m. to 9 p.m., reaching an estimated 8,000 to 10,000 viewers.

Pass Club studies tomato planting

The February meeting of the Pass Christian Garden Club featured a demonstration on planting tomatoes by Mrs. Howard Haines, horticulture chairman. The meeting was held in the Trinity Parish House with approximately 35 members in attendance.

Mrs. Haines showed in her demonstration how the young plant should be set in the ground in a plastic bag with sterile soil, bag open and extending out of the ground with more earth added as needed. After the demonstration the club discussed a tour of homes during the Bicentennial celebration in Jan. 1976.

A nominating committee consisting of Mrs. Justin Courtenay, Mrs. Parnell McKay, and Mrs. Leland Little was appointed to select a slate of officers to be elected at the April meeting.

The Pass Christian Club has been asked to participate in the Flag Day Parade in Gulfport June 14.

Brochures for the Gulf Coast Spring Pilgrimage were distributed by Dr. Celestine Lindstrater. Heads of various committees for the Pilgrimage include: directional signs, Mrs. H. Haines; tea, Mrs. William Curren; flower arrangements, Mrs. Roland Martin; hostesses, Mrs. Fabian Wambgan, St. Paul's Church; and Mrs. Dorothy Dennis, Trinity Church.

Randall Jones, one of the chairmen for the second Arts and Crafts Festival, discussed plans for this event to be held in the Pass Christian library, Thursday, March 13 at 12 noon. The festival will include all classifications of handwork from needlepoint to "noodling."

The club was informed of "Landscaping in other Countries" by guest speaker, Mrs. Owen Palmer. Mrs. Palmer showed slides of England, France, Germany, Italy, Spain and Switzerland demonstrating differences in landscaping techniques from formal or parterre (embroidery) gardens to window boxes. Many familiar plants such as geraniums, begonias, crepe myrtle and oleander are used in most of the countries.

Following Mrs. Palmer's talk, tea was served to members and guests. Hostesses were Mrs. Alden Keel and Miss Marjorie Knost.

Stanislaus serenaders

Blue Jeans vote new constitution

Blue Jeans Garden Club met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fred Horn with Mesdames Fred Hoffman, Jewel Stratton and G.T. Moreau as cohostesses.

During the business session conducted by Mrs. A.M. Thomas, club president, the new constitution and by-laws were presented by Mrs. Joseph Servat and Mrs. William Richardson for membership approval.

Mrs. William Schaefer and Mrs. Frank Klein Jr., were elected as representatives to serve on the Club's membership executive board, and Mrs. John Everard was appointed historian.

Mrs. Richardson and Mrs. Schaefer, who were selected as entertainment chairmen, will make plans for the club's birthday luncheon Tuesday, March 11.

Entries in the various plant and arrangement categories were judged and winners were Mrs. Servat, dried arrangement; Mrs. Klein, miniature, Mrs. J.C. Goodloe, cultivated; Mrs. Kirkland Rheams, potted and Mrs. Ben Mutter, horticulture.

Jackson opens crafts exhibit

February has been declared Mississippi Crafts Month by Governor Bill Waller, and during that time there will be four crafts shows in Jackson.

In addition to the Governor's Crafts Exhibition in the Walter Sillers State Office Building February 17-28, three other shows will run for the entire month - the International Ceramics Symposium at the Old Capitol Museum, ceramics by Skip Allen at the Mississippi Art Association Sales Gallery, and jewelry by Jem Freyaldenhoven at the Municipal Art Gallery.

"Visitors could easily see all four shows in one day's visit," said Dan Overly, director of the Craftsman's Guild of Mississippi, "and view as large a variety of crafts as are likely to be collected together in one place at one time."

Overly, a former public school system art supervisor, said he believes the live crafts demonstrations at the Governor's Crafts Exhibition would be of particular interest to students as well as to persons interested in learning a craft.

The live demonstrators will include Skip Allen, the MAA Sales Gallery exhibitor who is Artist-in-Residence in the Mississippi Arts Commission's Artist-in-the-Schools Program in Jackson. He will transport his George School studio to the Walter Sillers Building for the entire 12-day show.

Among the other craftsmen doing rotating demonstrations will be quillmaker, Martha Skelton of Vicksburg, leatherworkers Chuck and Marion Cuendet of Madison, and macrame artist Rose Lee of Jackson.

In addition to the live demonstrations, Overly said that visitors can see about 150 crafted items including woodworking, blown glass, cornshuck dolls and Indian baskets at the Governor's Crafts Exhibition.

The Governor's Crafts Exhibition will be open from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily.

Altar society plans mission

St. Ann's Altar Society met Tuesday, Feb. 4, at the Parish Hall with Mrs. A. M. Thomas, president, presiding.

Rev. Canisius Hayes, pastor of St. Ann's Catholic Church, announced a mission will be held starting Monday, March 3, through Friday, March 7, at 7:30 p.m. each night at St. Ann's Church, Lower Bay Road, Clermont Harbor.

All men and women of the Parish and Lakeshore, Ansley and Bayside Park area are invited to attend.

Stations of the Cross will be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesdays during Lent.

The monthly luncheon-social was scheduled for noon Feb. 26, in St. Ann's Parish Hall. Donation will be $1.50 per person.

Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. Alvin Ladner hosted the social hour. The next meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 27 in the Parish Hall with Mrs. Gloria Moran and Mrs. Frank Klein Jr. and hostesses.

One week remains to purchase tickets

Only one week remains to purchase tickets in advance of the Feb. 27 performance in Bay St. Louis of the New Orleans Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Werner Torkanowsky. The concert is being sponsored by the Altrusa Club of Bay St. Louis-Waveland.

Selections from Beethoven, Mendelssohn and Tchaikowsky will be included in the program as well as a solo violin performance by Yuval Yaron.

Admission for the performance, which will be held in the Bay St. Louis Junior High School gymnasium beginning at 8 p.m., is $4.50 for adults or $2.50 for students. Tickets can be obtained from any of the following merchants in Bay St. Louis: Princess Dress Shop, Ramsey's Department Store, Hancock Bank, and Dagnan's Realty, or by telephoning 467-4719.

St. Clare's Parish News

Pass edges Hawkettes in finals

by David Pierson

Connie Winstead's tip-in for two points at the buzzer lifted the Pass High Pirates over the Hancock North Central Hawkettes, 45-44 in the girls' District 8-A finals Saturday night in the Pearl River Junior College gymnasium.

However, the finals, as close as it was, was anti-climactic since both teams clinched berths in the South State playoffs in Lucedale.

Both teams overcame their most serious challenges of being eliminated in semi-finals play.

The Pass Pirates, plagued by cold shooting, fell behind 14-10 at the half after taking an 8-4 first quarter lead in their semifinal clash with Stone. But in the third quarter Ella Ladner hit on two consecutive 15 foot jump shots and narrowed the lead to 16-14.

Then Connie Winstead faked a shot and passed to Ladner under the basket to tie the game with 4:10 left in the third quarter. On the Pirates next possession, Winstead used the same maneuver, and again Ladner responded with a layup to put the Pirates ahead 18-16.

Stone battled back to take a 27-26 fourth quarter lead, but Connie Winstead hit on a ten-footer to give the Pirates the lead. Winstead then blocked a Rhonda Brown layup, and Ella Ladner answered with another field goal to extend the Pirates lead to 30-27.

With 2:45 left in the game, Peg Farris of Stone fouled out of the game, leaving Winstead to control the boards and the Pirates moved on to claim the game, 38-30.

Ella Ladner of Pass High and Peg Farris of Stone shared the scoring honors with 12 points each. Connie Winstead and Mary Hill each scored 11 for the winners.

In their semi-final game, the Hancock Hawkettes led Purvis only 20-17 at the half but then raced out to a 34-23 lead with two minutes left in the third quarter.

Debra Carter scored on a ten-footer and brought Purvis back to within five points, with four minutes left in the game. But the Hawkette defense held off the Purvis comeback and won 42-37.

The Bay High Tigerettes were eliminated by the Purvis girls in the first round, 55-51.

In Pass High's 45-44 win over the Hawkettes, Connie Winstead led all scorers with 29 points, and Nat Malley led the Hancock girls with 14.

The all-tournament girls team selections are as follows: Connie Winstead, Pass High; Lanette Randall, Sharon Ladner, and Susan Ann Ladner, Hancock; Debbie Reynolds and Mary Taylor, Oak Grove; Brenda Clark, East Central; Toni Byrd, Poplarville; Paula Humphries and Debra Carter, Purvis; Sandra Lyons, Bay High; Peg Farris and Cheryl Davis, Stone; and Lynn Smith, Forrest County.

Pirates, Hawkettes advance to South State playoffs

The Pass High and the Hancock North Central girls cleared the first hurdle on the road to the Class A state championships and will represent District 8-A in the South State playoffs in Lucedale tonight.

Pass High (21-10) claimed the district championship by beating in succession Poplarville, Stone, and Hancock North Central. The Pirates will meet the District 5 runnerup, North East Lauderdale, tonight at 8:15 p.m. The winner will advance to the semi-finals to play the winner of the Forrest County-Monticello tilt Friday at 8:15 p.m.

Hancock North Central's Hawkettes eliminated Brooklyn and Purvis before losing to the Pirates in the finals. The Hawkettes will play District 5 champion West Lauderdale at 7 p.m. tonight. The winner of that game will play the Morton-Tylertown winner Friday at 7 p.m. for a berth in the state playoffs.

The finals are scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Saturday with the finalists moving to the state playoffs in Jackson to meet the north state playoff winner and runner-up.

Pressured but open

Darlene Ladner of Hancock North Central finds an opening and scores on this baseline play to help the Hawkettes eliminate the Purvis Tornadoes Friday from the district playoffs, 42-37.

Tigers close season with hopes for next year

By Dan Barber

A cold first half and a hot Luther Monroe ended hopes of Tiger Coach Mike Necaise of moving into the finals of the District VIII Class A tournament in Poplarville Friday night. Stone handed the Tigers their 13th loss of the season, a disappointing 61-36 performance, to end the Tiger season 13-13.

"We just couldn't beg, borrow, or steal a bucket in the first half," Coach Necaise said following the game with Stone. The poor field goal percentage accounted for the Tiger's lowest scoring total for the whole season, a measly 36 points.

For the Tigers and Necaise, the loss Friday was especially disappointing. The Tigers riding their best season since Necaise played for the blue and gold himself, had played aggressively and brilliantly at times despite the lack of a really big man on the floor.

"We sure hated to lose this one," Necaise said as the team boarded the bus for the trip back home. "But nobody can say that we quit playing out there can they?"

The Tomcats set the pace of the game from the opening basket and jumped to an early 15-6 lead that stretched to a 35-13 halftime lead. The Tigers came roaring back in the second half with a full court press and outscored the Tomcats in the third period to narrow the lead to 43-26 but couldn't stay in the game with the stronger Stone team.

Tiger floor leader Arnold Fairconnetue, who fouled out early in the third period of play, was replaced by Mike Fricke who ably added eight points of his own on short jumpers under the basket. Tom Barrett finished high for the Tigers with 13 points, followed by Fricke, Fairconnetue with seven and Allison Farve, Paul Sautier, Clarence Hargett and Donald Lott with two each.

Stone was paced by Luther Monroe with 23 points.

Graduating Tigers playing their last game for the blue and gold were seniors Mike Magee, Arnold Fairconnetue and Mike Fricke.

"We should have a strong team next year," Necaise said.

Hancock beats Stone, wraps up district crown

POPLARVILLE — The Hancock North Central Hawks of Coach Roland Ladner wrapped up the District VIII Class A basketball crown here Saturday night with a convincing 72-61 win over Stone County. The win assured the Hawks of a trip to the South Mississippi Tournament to be held in Bay Springs Feb. 19-22. Under rules of the south state competition, Stone will also advance to the tournament as a finalist in the District VIII. The Hawks advanced to the finals over the bodies of Poplarville (78-67) on Wednesday, and Purvis (80-71) the following Friday night.

Stone had earlier defeated Oak Grove, 69-63, and Bay St. Louis 61-36 in the semifinals. The superb matchup of the Purvis Tornadoes and the Hancock Hawks on Friday night made the Hawks-Stone game anticlimactic. The Tornadoes of Coach Emil Pav fought tooth and nail against the Hawks for a full four periods and only the brilliant floor shooting of Hancock North Central's Jack Lewis and Guy Necaise kept Pav's Tornadoes at bay in the final period. The Tornadoes, who were never down by more than eight points in the final period were able to close the gap to four on a layup by Jimmy Richardson, Coach Pav's amazing freshman who ended the game with 25 points. But the Hawks answered with six straight points from Jack Lewis and Terry and Guy Necaise.

Against Stone, Guy Necaise led the charge over the Tomcats with a 31-point performance. The Tomcats who trailed by two, 15-13 after one quarter, moved ahead 46-45 after the third quarter but a 27-point fourth quarter effort by the Hawks kept Stone from moving ahead.

Jack Lewis and Terry Necaise added 15 and 12 points respectively for the Hawks. Wendell Weathers led Stone with 16 points. Norman Armstrong added 13 and Luther Monroe and Peter Saia had 11 each.

Named to the boys all-tournament team were Guy Necaise, Terry Necaise and Jack Lewis—Hancock; Alvin Howze, Luther Monroe and Wendell Weathers—Stone; Klaus Jackson and Keith Bounds—Oak Grove; Paul Strahan—Poplarville; Jimmy Richardson, M.O. Silas and Ronnie Hill—Purvis; Allison Farve—Bay St. Louis; Robin Malley—Pass Christian; and Ernie Shows—Forrest County.

Moran pleased with Pirates

Pass High basketball Coach Dale Moran, pleased with his boys' 18-8 season record and its conference title, said last week that "the year 1974-75 will go down as the rebirth of Pass Christian basketball."

Pointing to the fact that the Pirates will lose only one player to graduation this year, Moran said that Pass Christian "will be a force to be dealt with in the future." And the consensus from the area coaches would agree with Moran's appraisal.

Moran said that Pass Christian had no one outstanding player this past year but rather "a good team balance." On offense, he said, the Pirates looked to its two high scorers, Robin Malley who averages 20.2 points a game and senior Wayne Bradley who scored at a 14.3 a game clip.

Henry Malley was the team's chief playmaker with a team high of 6.7 assists a game. And Moran called Jack Ulrich his "super sub." Ulrich, Moran said, was the dominant force in the Pirates winning the Pascagoula River Conference.

On defense, the Pirates are led by Wayne Bradley. "If the other team's ace gets hot," said Moran, "he will match him head up." On the boards, the Pirates have Robin Malley, a six foot one inch junior, who several coaches have called one of the top offensive rebounders on the Gulf Coast. Malley averaged 16.3 rebounds a game this past year.

Never say die

Chuck Genin (23) of St. Stanislaus shoots through the Gulfport East defense in Thursday night's District 8-AA tournament action. Gulfport East won the game 81-56, eliminating the Rocks from State playoff consideration.

Gulfport East ends Rocks dreams

The Gulfport East Vikings crushed the St. Stanislaus Rocks 81-56 in District 8-AA action Thursday night and, with the win, dashed the Rocks' hopes for a berth in the state playoffs.

St. Stanislaus held a 13-12 first quarter lead but quickly fell behind and trailed most of the second period. With 1:19 left in the half, the Vikings led 26-19. But the Rocks added three quick field goals and narrowed the gap to 16-25 at the half.

In the second half, the Rocks' height disadvantage began to take its toll. The Rocks tired and began committing numerous mental errors and turnovers, and East took advantage of the lapse and moved in front 48-38 at the end of the third quarter. In the final stanza, the Vikings outscored St. Stanislaus 23-18 to wrap up the contest.

Jeff Weston of Gulfport East led all scorers with 24 points. Bud Lang led the Rocks with 18. St. Stanislaus ended its season with a 21-6 record.

RACING NEWS - Harry Chapman, race committee chairman, has announced that Bay-Waveland Yacht Club will host the 1975 Area Semi-Finals for the Mallory Cup, the Men's North American sailing championship.

The entire competition for local participants from club eliminations through the finals will be sailed in Flying Scots in the Western District of the Gulf Yachting Association.

The Mallory Western District Eliminations will be at Gulfport Yacht Club on June 21 and 22. New Orleans Yacht Club will host the quarter-finals July 5 and 6.

The semi-finals will be held September 13 and 14, and the Finals will be at Southern Yacht Club beginning September 25.

Any Bay-Waveland skipper interested in competing for this championship must sign the list posted on the bulletin board at the yacht club.

Lists have also been posted at the Club for skippers to sign up for the other national sailing championships. The schedule for the O'Day Men's Single-Handed Sailing Championship is as follows: Western Districts - Biloxi Yacht Club, June 21-22; Quarter-Finals, New Orleans Yacht Club, July 5-6; Semi-Finals in Lasers, Texas Yachting Association, August 9-10; O'Day Finals, Minnetonka, Minnesota, August 23.

The Adams Cup schedule for the Women's Sailing Championship is Western Districts, Pontchartrain Yacht Club, June 14-15; Quarter-Finals, July 5-6; Semi-Finals, Central States Sailing Association, August 2-3; Finals, Newport Harbor Yacht Club, Balboa, California, beginning August 23.

An elimination series will be sailed at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club to determine the Sears representative and the Junior Lipton team. The Junior Lipton Regatta will be held at Southern Yacht Club July 19-20. The schedule for the Sears Junior Sailing Championship is as follows: Western Districts, Southern Yacht Club, June 14-15; Quarter-Finals, Southern Yacht Club, July 1-13; Semi-Finals, Jackson Yacht Club, July 25 and 27; Finals, Bay Head Yacht Club, New Jersey, August 23. The Smythe Junior Single-Handed Sailing Championship will be sailed concurrently with all Sears events.

Long Beach girls earn playoff berth

The Long Beach Bearkittens, winners of two early round contests in the District 8-AA tournament, lost in the finals to the Harrison Central Red Rebellees, a team that has never beaten the Long Beach girls eight times this year. But the defeat came after the Bearkittens clinched a berth in the South State AA playoffs in Northeast Jones, near Laurel.

In the first round, the Long Beach girls moved past d'Iberville, 61-42. Debbie Boyd poured in 23 points and Donna Cuevas contributed 12 as the Bearkittens broke open the game early in the third quarter.

In its all-important semifinal contest against Pascagoula, the Bearkittens earned a berth in the South State playoffs with a 61-46 win. The Bearkittens connected on nearly 30 percent of its shots and jumped out to a 32-11 halftime lead. Debbie Boyd led all scorers with 19 and Linda Ladner each contributed 13 points to the Bearkitten cause.

In the finals, the Harrison Central Red Rebellees continued their hex over the Bearkittens by trouncing the Long Beach girls 60-41. Donna Cuevas and Debbie Boyd led the Long Beach scorers with 12 points each.

Babe Ruthers hold meeting

The Bay St. Louis Babe Ruth Baseball League will hold its first meeting of the 1975 baseball season tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the Chamber of Commerce in Bay St. Louis.

All interested persons are urged to attend. Election of officers will also be held.

Harrison Central is the only team to beat the Long Beach girls since the Christmas break.

The Bearkittens, now 16-15 for the year, will play Northeast Jones (24-6) tonight at 7 p.m. at the Northeast gym.

The boys were named to the All-District Eight tourney team. They were Ray White, Bobby Jones and Gary Holman, of Gulfport; Jim Bradley, of Gulfport East; Robert Smith, of St. Stanislaus; George Pope of Biloxi; Vic McLaurin of Ocean Springs; David Mackay and Jerry Haskins of Harrison Central; and Derrick Davis of Moss Point.

The Girls All-District team was as follows: Marilyn Powe and Sandra Wronko of St. Martin; Jan Baragar of d'Iberville; Sharon Phillips and Edna Purvis of George County; Debbie Boyd and Donna Cuevas of Long Beach; Doris Haskins, Nancy Faulk, Renee Rutland and Kathy Faulk of Harrison Central; and Debbie Byrd of Pascagoula.

We know that summer time is near at hand from the reports we received that some soft crabs have been caught by some old timers. The crabs are not too plentiful as yet, but that is a good sign there will be more later.

Whenever there are hard crabs; there have got to be soft ones. Crabs grow by turning soft.

A soft crab is one third larger after it sheds.

Something most fresh water fishermen wait for is when the barricades are removed from the entrances to Black, Mills and other bayous. They have been removed now that duck and goose season are over. This area is one of our best bass and perch fishing spots.

Game Warden Lloyd Garcia has given us the go-ahead sign. He is also a great guy to know. "Thanks, Lloyd, for the information. Be seeing you."

Was a pleasure meeting Ken Karger from Michigan. He is a retired rural carrier who enjoys some fishing. New to this section but is learning fast where the fishing is good.

John Harville and his wife, Donna, are an interesting young couple I just met. They both enjoy fishing with Elliott Giveans in Pearl River at Pearlinton, Miss. They do mostly fresh water fishing and go on every occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Prest and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Matranga enjoyed fishing over the weekend at Empire, La. They enjoy salt water fishing and usually bring home some beautiful red fish and speckles.

Stayed at the camp of Charley's nephew. You can bet they will get their share of fish.

Jim Smith and Milbor Johnson are both with Diamondhead. Selling real estate is their business, but fresh water fishing is their hobby.

Have promised to show them some of our best fishing grounds. Wait until the weather gets better, fellows. Won't be long now.

Mrs. Charlotte Johnson and Mrs. Leon Prima are two of our best lady anglers. These ladies live at Diamondhead but will fish anywhere.

Was a pleasure meeting Leon Prima, a resident of Diamondhead. He is the brother of Louis Prima of band fame. Leon not only plays golf but does his share of fishing. Plenty of both out Diamondhead way, if you know what I mean.

Alden Mauffray has gotten the go-ahead sign from his doctor to start fishing again after being laid up for quite a while. They are beginning to hit, Alden.

County Agent's Notes

John W. Smith, County Agent

LIQUID FERTILIZERS

Liquid nitrogen and some liquid mixed fertilizers have been used for several years by some Mississippi farmers. In Experiment Station tests they have been equal to solid-granular materials when applied at the same rate and same manner. But a little liquid fertilizer will not replace a large quantity of solid fertilizer of the same analysis.

Liquid nitrogen solutions of 28-32 per cent contain urea and ammonium nitrate and have been satisfactory when sprayed on wheat, ryegrass and other spring cereal or grazing crop. The rate of application should not be more than 40 pounds of nitrogen per acre to minimize burn.

Slight burn may even occur then, but the crop should grow out of it within a few days.

In deciding whether to use a liquid or solid fertilizer, consider how each fits into your program according to labor requirements, equipment needs and cost of the materials.

QUALITY FORAGE
When feeding poor quality forage to your milking herd, you are costing yourself extra money. The lower quality forage must be fortified with extra grain to meet the cow's nutritional requirements and to maintain production. Research has shown that a cow eating 75 pounds daily of excellent silage needs only 14 pounds of grain to balance the ration. The estimated feed cost was $1.49.

With good silage the cow ate 75 pounds daily, but needed 16 pounds of grain to balance the ration. Feed cost here was $1.66. But with poor silage, the cow only ate 70 pounds daily and needed 19 pounds of grain to balance the ration. For the poor silage and grain, the feed cost was $1.84.

Remember this! Dairy rations begin with forage.

NO. 12,586

THE STATE OF MISSISSIPPI, To heirs at law of DORSE

Local player scores big in district

by David Pierson

Most people think of basketball players as being Neanderthal-types with rock faces. But Robert Smith, who is a basketball player and who may even be called a Rock, certainly does not qualify as a Neanderthal.

The son of Mrs. Thelma Smith of Bay St. Louis, Robert stands only five feet ten inches, but on the basketball court he makes up for his lack of size with bigness in other areas — such as scoring and ball handling.

Last week Smith ended his high school playing days, but he took with him the District 8-AA scoring championship. Smith outdistanced all contenders for the scoring crown with a 22.5 points-a-game average, but what is more interesting is the way Smith achieved that mark.

He did not take 25 or 30 shots a game to achieve that mark. Rather, he averaged just 16 shots from the field a game and hit on 57 percent of those shots.

Now unlike most contenders for the scoring crown, Smith's shots were not from six inches away. Remember, Smith is not tall enough to stay under the basket and be effective. So, in the words of the former basketball great Bill Russell, Smith relied upon his ability to put the ball through "long distance."

"He's a natural shooter," says Rock Head Coach Bob Cuccaro. "And what's more, he's a disciplined shooter. He just won't take a bad shot. He picks his shots."

Smith is also an excellent ball handler. With a season average of 6.3 assists a game, Smith ranks among the district leaders in that category also. And according to Coach Cuccaro, Smith's figure could have been higher if he had taller teammates to pass off to.

An example of Smith's ballhandling ability came in the Rocks' last game of the year against the Gulfport East Vikings. Smith drove through the Viking defense only to be met under the goal by the Vikings' big center — Jim Bradley.

What followed was reminiscent of Houdini. To the fans on either side of the court, it appeared as if Smith passed the ball through Bradley when, in fact, Smith slipped a backhand pass around Bradley to Will Marler who was waiting under the goal for the score.

Unlike most of the people who play the game, Smith has the rare quality of being able to control the tempo of the game. If he wants to run, the game will be fast-paced. If he wants to slow down the game, he does.

Smith sees this as an ability to adapt. "I can adjust to any style of ball," he says. "I'm used to playing slow ball with the set-ups, and I'm used to the faster-paced ball too. Whatever the coach wants, I can adapt."

A three-year letterman at St. Stanislaus, Smith will rank third on the school's all-time scoring list and his season total of 610 points will rank second behind Curtis St. Mary.

Among the honors he has won in his last two years at St. Stanislaus are the following: an all-Gulf Coast Conference player selection last year, all-Pascagoula River Conference player selection this year, all-District 8-AA player this year, and selection to the all-tournament team in both the tournaments he played in this year. In addition, Smith was honored this year as the most valuable player in the Pascagoula River Conference.

And Coach Cuccaro believes that he is deserving of the award. "I think he's the best all-around guard on the Coast. There may be a guard who is better at defense or who is a better ball-handler, but there is no guard on the Coast who can do them all as well as Robert Smith."

When asked what he felt was the secret to his success in a big man's game, Smith answered, "I'm used to playing with taller players. Whenever I'd play ball, I'd always be the smallest one on the court. So I just had to try harder."

When asked what he hoped was in future, he answered succinctly, "I wish I could grow a couple of inches." The rest, he must figure, he can handle on his own.

Little big man

Robert Smith of St. Stanislaus was the Rocks' big scorer this past season, averaging 22.5 points a game to lead all District 8-AA Scorers.

soon as it gets warmer. Something else to do this summer, go frogging.

Right now bass fishing is not too hot. Been too cold, and the water most everywhere is on the bad side. A little warmer weather and this sport will come into its own again.

According to a Chief Justice's decision, for the time being anyway, it will be "Bye, bye" to millions of black birds. The Army plans to carry out the program at Ft. Campbell and Paducah in Kentucky and the Milan Army Ammunition plant in Robertson and Giles Counties in Tennessee. It must be for the best.

Sunday was the last day for hunting snipe and woodcock. Don't think there were too many killed this season. All guns can be put away until next winter, when it will start again.

Most fresh water fish being caught now are full of eggs. The spawning seasons for bass and perch are about next month and April. The fish with eggs should be thrown back.

Millions of fish are killed when the eggs are destroyed. Ever think of that?

An unusual but true sight was seeing Polly Mazarakas walking along the beach back of Eddie Marquez's place Sunday evening picking up driftwood. Polly creates some interesting objects from driftwood.

Something to be appreciated is the municipal pier which is being completed at the head of Ulman Avenue and the beach. Local residents as well as visitors will use it for swimming, fishing, crabbing, boating, etc. The railings are being built this week.

It is larger and longer than the pier which was destroyed by Hurricane Camille.

Red and Gloria Reinike are too busy making ceramics nowadays to go fishing or play golf. The business comes first they said. Both are being missed on the golf course, knocking the little white pill around and up the river pulling in fish.

Audubon group plans program

The fourth annual Audubon Pilgrimage, sponsored March 14-16, by the West Feliciana Historical Society, offers tourists a glimpse of four plantation mansions, two formal gardens and one historic townhouse. The most popular item on the tour agenda, however, is the history lessons taking place, life-sized and in living color, around the out-buildings of the main attractions. These are demonstrations for those not content to just look at an old house; but how it was built, what went on there, what the inhabitants were like and what they did.

At Beechwood, one of the homes on the tour, a country-fair atmosphere will portray the varied skills necessary in the days when each isolated plantation had to be as nearly self sufficient as possible. Changing economies, increased mobility and marketing advances have rendered many of these techniques outmoded, but in rural West Feliciana Parish of Louisiana they are far from "dying arts," and in many instances are still in practice every day.

Of particular interest to children will be wagon rides to the Stirling family cemetery behind Beechwood, resting spot of Eliza Pirrie, whom John James — Audubon originally came to the parish to tutor. Background music will be provided by Scott Dunbar, one of the few old-time blues guitarists left in the area.

Demonstrations of specialized handskills around the old Beechwood barn will include horse shoeing and the making of cypress shingles for roofing. The shingles are handmade with a froe, an old-fashioned cleaving tool used for splitting shingles individually from a log or block of wood.

A century-old cabin on the Beechwood grounds, setting for two additional features, is typically furnished with iron bedstead and patchwork quilt, old-fashioned kitchen implements and Clementine Hunter original primitives. Cornbread and native sweet potatoes baking in the kitchen's wood stove will be demonstrated for visitors, and on the front porch soap will be made in an iron pot, using lye, lard, and plenty of elbow grease. Weaving and basketry skills may also be shown.

At Feliciana Crafts, corner of Parker and Commerce Streets in St. Francisville, skilled quilters will demonstrate their art. Patterns like Bow Tie, Nine Patch, Pinwheel and Star, often handed down generation to generation, are most popular in this sprawling rural parish, where quilting bees have long been a favorite social activity. Large acreages planted in corn for human and animal consumption have given rise to another craft indigenous to the parish, the making of intricately braided cornshuck mats. Local artisans will demonstrate this technique also, soaking the shucks until pliable and then tightly weaving them into oval or round rugs.

Ole Miss plans Law Weekend

A former Assistant Secretary of State, Dr. Charles Frankel, will lecture at the University of Mississippi School of Law as part of Ole Miss Law Weekend for graduates and current students, March 5-9.

Dr. Frankel, now Old Dominion Professor of Philosophy and Public Affairs at Columbia University Law School, will be the speaker at the Law Memorial Lectures, March 5-7, and will lecture at 11 a.m. each day.

Theme for the Lectures, established in 1973 by a Jackson law firm to honor its founding partners, is "The Role of the Law in the Twentieth Century." Dr. Frankel was Assistant Secretary of State for Education and Cultural Affairs at the U. S. State Department, 1965-67.

Ole Miss Law Weekend is designed to give practicing attorneys in the state an opportunity to visit with faculty, review facilities, and inspect plans for the new Law Center. In addition, classes of 1905, 1915, 1925, 1935, 1945, 1955, and 1965 will be recognized at a banquet.

"Law Weekend is planned as a relaxed, informal occasion," said Dean Parham Williams, "and an opportunity for law alumni to return to the campus and enjoy a weekend of fellowship with old classmates."

Other features of Law Weekend will include a reception, classroom visitations, placement interviews, a basketball game, baseball games, and meetings of the Mississippi State Bar and Junior Bar committees.

Home Makers

Notes

By Norine Barnes, Hancock County Home Economist

Before you throw out that old garment, stop and think with a dash of imagination and a bit of skill, that "old rag" could be just what you need to add life to your wardrobe.

For example, garments that are threadbare only in particular areas can be saved by clever camouflage.

Leather patches sewn at the elbow of sweaters or jackets or on the knees of children's slacks can add months of wear.

Braid covering a worn neckline or a big removable collar that conceals a threadbare neckline can make an old garment look new.

Torn buttonholes on a jacket can be hidden under attractive braid or fabric binding.

If cuffs are frayed, replace them or shorten the sleeves. If the sleeve is worn under the arm, replace with new sleeves, cut from a contrasting fabric. Use the old sleeve as your pattern or make the garment sleeveless.

Remodeling an entire garment can be a big job, so be certain that the fabric is in good enough condition to merit your time and effort.

Or if you plan to make a new garment from an old one, here is a tip: Never start to cut out a garment until all of the pattern pieces have been pinned in place, or you may find you lack enough fabric to carry the job to completion.

If there is not enough fabric to work with, supplement it with fabric from another source. Garments with yokes, contrasting collars and cuffs or hem bindings work well.

Separates call for less fabrics and may be easier to cut. Renovation of old garments can be a great money saver and wardrobe stretcher. The results may prove more pleasing than you imagined.

FAMILY COMMUNICATION Be available to your children for just plain talk sometime during the day. Same girls talk with their mothers as they do the weekly marketing together. Some fellows know their fathers are usually available for at least one half hour after dinner most nights. Try to manage an unhurried, "I'm not too busy" attitude. Don't force discussion, but be available in the event the child wants to talk. Show by your mood and attitude that you are interested, that no subject is trivial or taboo. Learn to listen to your children without interrupting. The more you listen to your children, the more they will come to you with problems, concerns, feelings and attitudes.

Do things together as a family. Sharing in fun, responsibilities, work and special projects helps build unity and harmony within the group.

Communication is sometimes frustrated by "parental amnesia." Parents forget how it was when they were young. If we as parents could remember, it would certainly help communication. Communication is further helped when parent and children share natural feelings like joy, anger and sadness.

Very often, parents break into children's play without saying, "Excuse me." Parents just take it for granted that what the child is doing is meaningless anyway and the parent has the perfect right to interrupt. How do we react as adults when we are interrupted?

It's important for each child to be alone with the parent with no one else around sometime during the day. Parents should look back over the day to see that each child has been given some time.

The emotional climate of your home is more important than specific child rearing practices you decide to use.

Sharing the faith

Mrs. Olive McKenna, Our Lady of the Gulf Parish, and Mrs. Hary Hazeur, St. Rose de Lima Parish, Co-Chairmen of Operation SHARE along with Fathers Daniel Gallagher, Our Lady of the Gulf, Walter Bracken, St. Rose de Lima, and Gregory J. Johnson, Our Lady of the Gulf, examine a map of the United States showing the number of unchurched in Mississippi.

Parishes plan Operation Share

Members of St. Rose de Lima and Our Lady of the Gulf Parishes in Bay St. Louis began Operation Share, a catholic evangelistic program for the unchurched Feb. 9.

The major emphasis of this city-wide effort will be to share the faith with the unchurched in Bay St. Louis, and to invite those who have neglected the practice of their Catholic faith to return to active membership.

A five-week program of publicity, mailings, home visits and phone call follow-ups will be included in this effort. The climax will be to invite inactive church members to take part in a special week of prayer and religious experiences to be held at St. Rose de Lima and Our Lady of the Gulf Churches March 16-21.

Jackson State plans songfest

The Jackson State University department of music has announced its 35th Annual Song Festival slated for Wednesday, Feb. 26, at 8:30 a.m. in Dansby Hall Auditorium on the campus. The Festival is designed as a choral workshop for vocal music teachers and their choirs from across the State.

Guest clinician for this year's festival will be Mrs. Delia Robinson, chairman of the music department and choral director at William L. Dickinson High School in Jersey City, New Jersey. Mrs. Robinson, who is presently working toward her doctorate degree, is a graduate of Virginia State College. She received her M. A. from Trenton State College in Trenton, New Jersey.

Ten high school choirs throughout the state have been invited to participate in the song festival. Each choir will present mini concerts.

Special musical selections will be presented by the Jackson State University-Jackson Symphony String Quartet; Jackson State University Piano Faculty Ensemble; Mrs. Gladys Norris; Charles Phillips; and the Blount High School Choir of Mobile, Alabama.

Admission is free and the show open to the public.

Sidelines Club

Election officials attend seminar

The Mississippi Economic Council has scheduled a seminar for state election officials to discuss their duties and responsibilities to be held in Jackson March 11. The seminar will be held at LeFleur's Convention Center. Election commissioners and circuit clerks from every county have been invited to attend the half-day session, said Marion Smith, chairman of MEC's committee on Governmental Affairs.

The purpose of the seminar, the chairman explained, is to acquaint election officials with their various pre-election, election day, and post-election responsibilities. Circuit Judge Joe Pigott of McComb, a former Governmental Affairs chairman and this year's MEC treasurer, will conduct the seminar. Other experienced election officials participating as panelists will include Attorney General A. F. Summer; Representative Stone Barefield of Hattiesburg, chairman of the House Committee on Apportionment and Elections; Senator Martin Smith of Poplarville, chairman of the Senate's Election Committee; and Hinds County Circuit Clerk Bill McKinley.

"Mississippi's elections have been in a state of confusion, with election officials having to look to state statutes, federal court decisions, opinions of the United States Attorney General, and the Federal Voting Rights Act to understand fully the procedures to be followed," Smith said.

"We have compiled all the statutes, rules and regulations into one publication; and Judge Pigott will be lecturing from this publication when he leads the seminar discussion."

CEHS plans art auction

Coast Episcopal High School in Pass Christian will hold its second art auction Saturday, Feb. 22 at the Downtowner Motor Hotel in Gulfport. Reception and exhibition of the art will start at 6:30 p.m., with the auction to open at 7:30 p.m.

The auction will feature graphics, oils and watercolors by international and award-winning artists including Hollingworth, Taubert, Fortuny, Lambert, Dali, Picasso, Chagall and Miro. All art is selected, displayed and auctioned by the Collier Art Corporation for the benefit of Coast Episcopal. There is no admission fee and the show is open to the public.

VFW ladies plan visit

Veterans of Foreign Wars Ladies Auxiliary to Post 3253, Bay St. Louis, met Feb. 13 at the VFW home with Mrs. Harris Boudreaux, president, conducting the business session.

Plans were made for members to meet this week to visit cemeteries in the county to ascertain burial places of veterans of the various wars. Members were asked to bring S&H, Top Value and Betty Crocker trading stamps, which are being collected for the VFW Association, to the March meeting.

It was announced the Bay St. Louis Auxiliary had been recognized for its 100 percent participation in the recent Americanism program.

The next meeting will be held at 8 p.m. March 13 at the VFW home.

USM completes public rose garden

The garden of the Hattiesburg Area Rose Society on the campus of the University of Southern Mississippi has been approved as an accredited Public Rose Garden.

William W. Wicht of the HARS was notified of the designation by All-American Rose Selections, Inc.

A number of plants chosen by the AARS as 1976 award winners will be sent to Hattiesburg for planting in the rose garden. These winners will be officially announced by name later this year.

The varieties and their shipping points include an apricot floribunda from Wilsonville, Ore.; a pine-yellow hybrid tea from Ontario, Calif.; a peach colored hybrid tea and a salmon climber, both from Medford, Ore.

Wicht said that an official guide of Public Rose Gardens in the nation indicates there are none in Alabama or Florida, and only two in Louisiana and Georgia. The USM garden is the first AARS-approved unit in Mississippi.

Considerations for approval include appearance and care of the garden, the amount of use by the public, the effort those responsible for the garden make to be of service to the public and provide horticultural information.

Southern's Rose Garden contains 688 two-year bushes from major growers in four states. They were solicited by the HARS which donated the bushes, valued at $3,000, to the University. The garden was officially dedicated in April of last year.
